Wilmington Garden Club

This year, "Art in Bloom" interprets the written word

WILMINGTON - Every March, the Wilmington Garden Club holds its annual "Art in Bloom" event. This year, the club hopes to provide its annual treasure with a fresh spin that will make it more accessible to the public.

"Books in Bloom" will run at the Wilmington Memorial Library from Wednesday, March 31 through Saturday, April 3. The location for the event is a departure from previous years, during which "Art in Bloom" had been held at the Wilmington Arts Center a few doors down from the library.

This year, the event will showcase flower arrangements that interpret various works of literature. That's a twist in itself, for usually the event focuses on interpretations of art itself.

"Books in Bloom" chairperson Patricia Kasparian had been toying with the idea of holding the event at a different place in town this year.

"The idea was to keep the concept of interpretation fresh and bring it to a location that would be more accessible to the public at large," Kasparian says. "I'd considered a local school, or even town hall."

According to Kasparian, it was during a summer meeting of the Garden Club's board when member Jean Miceli suggested using the Wilmington Memorial Library.

"Jean suggested it, and I immediately thought it would be perfect," Kasparian states, adding, "In fact, I wished it were my idea!"

From there, Kasparian contacted Library Director Tina Stewart. The two met at the library to discuss the possibilities.

"After our initial meeting, I knew it would be a fun project," Kasparian says. "I thought I might have to justify an event like this, taking up precious space in the building, but I found Mrs. Stewart to be very receptive to the idea. In fact, to my surprise, the event wasn't completely unknown to her. An event like this had been held at Littleton Library some time ago, when their garden club interpreted books."

To further involve the library and its staff, Kasparian suggested that the library staff choose the book titles to be interpreted as flower arrangements for the event.

"By having the library staff choose the books we interpret, we involved them in the creative process and helped them promote some of their favorite titles," says Kasparian. "Besides, I'm sure they're anxious to see what we come up with! I think letting the library choose the titles intimidated some of our arrangers, but I know they will rise to the occasion. I feel that the club's talent is something to celebrate, as well as the books they're working with. This is a great group of ladies and I've been proud to represent them."

"Art in Bloom" will feature ten arrangements to be spread throughout the library. Two of the arrangements will interpret children's books.

The books interpreted in the arrangements will be "Mystic River," by Dennis Lehane; "Shadows on the Coast of Maine," by Lea Wait; "Julie and Romeo," by Jeanne Ray; "Beach Music," by Pat Conroy; "The Secret Life of Bees," by Sue Monk Kidd; "Girl with a Pearl Earring," by Tracy Chevalier; "The Hobbit," by J.R.R. Tolkien; "Make Way for Ducklings," by Robert McCloskey; "Vineyard Blues," by Philip A. Craig; and, naturally, "Empire Falls," by Richard Russo. "Empire Falls" is the centerpiece of "Wilmington Reads," a program sponsored by the library that has been very popular with hundreds of local readers this month.

It's Your Money by Joyce Brisbois

WILL YOU FILE ON LINE?

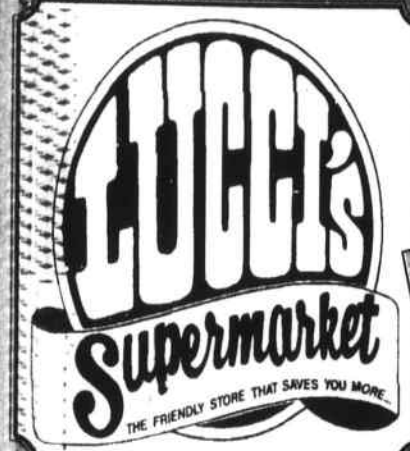

Almost half of last April's tax returns were filed electronically, and for a number of good reasons.

Consider: Filing online is convenient. Day or night, no trips to the post office needed, returns can be filed directly from your tax professional's office, even from home. And it's more accurate. The return is not accepted by the IRS unless it's completely filled out and mathematically correct. Note: the IRS figures that the error rate for computer-generated, e-filed returns is less than one percent, against twenty-one percent of manually prepared returns.

Chances are, your refund will come more quickly, too, possibly in a week or two. (Avoid the expensive "advice refunds" offered by some tax preparers. The cost of their loan is very, very high.) Still another reason to file on line: your timely filing won't be messed up by the governmental irradiation of mail (after the anthrax scare) that can obliterate postmarks.

On line or in an envelope, you'll want your taxes prepared by professionals. Talk to us at

Tewksbury First

Voters in Tewksbury, everything's now in your hands. You need to do more this Saturday than spring your clocks ahead an hour before you call it a night. You've got to head to the polls and fill in those ovals next to your candidates of choice, for April 3 is the date of the Tewksbury Annual Town Election.

Your Annual Town Election. You can only claim ownership of the big day, however, if you take part.

The candidates, for one, have done their part, especially those who have their hearts set on one of the two seats that are up for grabs this year on the Board of Selectmen. Five of them - incumbents Charles Coldwell and Joseph Gill and fellow hopefuls Ralph Ford, Robert Kelley and Robert Marcin - met in the auditorium of the Tewksbury Town Hall this past Monday night and answered your questions and provided a glimpse of what they'd be like in office. (The sixth candidate for selectman, Greg Peters, provided ample notice that work obligations prevented him from attending that night.)

By the way, here at the Town Crier we'd like to thank those candidates and the residents who attended what was this newspaper's first sponsored debate in Tewksbury. We'd also like to extend our appreciation to Town Crier Columnist Kevin Anderson, who organized the event and guided the candidates through the maze of issues tackled that evening.

Back to you, though.

This weekend is your chance to determine the course of events in Tewksbury. On the line is your right to speak your mind on such hot button matters as traffic, senior housing, sidewalks, the strapped budget, and a certain little mall proposed in the south end of town.

So many people have their sights set on the presidential election in November. With a global war on terror and an unemployment rate struggling to rebound, the stakes are higher than ever.

Some voters want to stay the country's course. Others want a change.

Democracy, however, starts at home. Before you get to November to determine the outcome of the heated battle between President Bush and Senator Kerry, you have to get through Saturday.

Only then, after charting the course of your town in the country, can you turn to the bigger picture and set the direction for the United States in the world.

Standing Eight Count

by Stephen Bjork

I am officially declaring my intention to seek a seat on the Board of Selectmen and I would like you to consider casting a vote for me on April 17.

Apparently, my name will not actually be appearing on the ballot as there is some paperwork or something that has to be filled out. A big pain in the neck, really. I just threw it on top of the big pile on my desk and kind of forgot about it. I really don't pay too much attention to paperwork.

So, anyway, my name will not appear on the ballot, so you will have to write me in. I realize that my last name can be confusing, but I assume that if you just write "Steve B" they'll know who you mean. I have a nickname that many people seem to know me by, so again, I assume that if you just go ahead and write "Dumba" they will know who you mean.

I ran a similar write-in campaign during last year's election and was dealt a crushing defeat, finishing behind even Karl Sagal. I am hoping for better results this year.

I may not have any political yard signs out there, but Ann Yurek's signs are small and illegible enough that people may assume they're mine.

I must admit that I was very hurt not to have been invited to participate in the WCTV sponsored debate, but they brought up the whole paperwork thing and blah, blah, blah. Whatever. I don't need them.

I am going to hold my own debate right here in this column during which I will engage myself in a spirited debate of the issues. I will be pulling no punches with myself.

The first question asked in the WCTV debate was, "it has been two years since the special town meeting at which voters rescinded an earlier decision to build a new library at the Whitefield School in North Wilmington. According to Wilmington Memorial Library Director, Tina Stewart, the conditions at the current library continue to grow more outdated and insufficient with each passing day. What do you support to finally remedy this situation and what, if elected, do you plan to do about it?"

First of all, let me just say, right off the bat; that is a really long question.

Who wrote that question? The question itself took up half of my column; couldn't we pare it down just a little bit? For instance, I live in Wilmington, I know that the Whitefield School is in North Wilmington. You didn't have to tell me that.

In answer to your long-winded question, yes, the Library is in rough shape, but that is because there are far too many books currently being housed there. Once elected, I promise to call for a good old-fashioned book burning to lighten the load a little bit. We can turn it into a big community event with families and we could raise a boatload on concessions. The money made from selling Marshmallows alone would fund the demolition of that old Whitefield School.

Let's see if we can get Don Woodbury to start a petition for a special town meeting to take care of that.

The library would be so empty that it would end up seeming like a brand new building and we could start building the book collection back up slowly. Everybody wins.

Next question. To summarize the question, what am I going to do about the water supply? Do I support a hook-up to MWRA?

Yes, I do. I'm tired of watering my lawn with Poland Springs. Do you have any idea how many gallon jugs it takes to fill a 16x32 foot swimming pool? Twenty-thousand. Trust me, I know.

In years past, people dreamed of swimming in money. Last summer, Wilmington residents dreamt of swimming in water. I've got a Super-Soaker filled and ready for the first person that tells me that the water ban is being extended into this upcoming summer.

Next question. Do I support Article 38, which removes authority from the Board of Selectmen to appoint a successor to the board in the case of a mid-term vacancy, and calls instead for a special town election.

Doesn't matter to me, just so long as I get on the Board somehow or other. Where are all these backroom deals I keep hearing about? I'd like one, please. Mike Newhouse got one, didn't he? Why can't I?

Next question. How would I deal with the escalating costs associated with the newly revised contract between the town and Suzanne Sullivan's hand-picked Town Counsel?

I don't know. I'm really not very familiar with this issue.

I will say this, however; it is my understanding that Town Counsel renegotiated his contract because his firm could not absorb the cited figure of $110,000 that it allegedly lost as a direct result of the flat fee agreement he signed on for. He risked irreparable damage to his reputation by breaking an agreement midway through its term, despite repeated assertions that he would eat any losses associated, because the financial losses could not possibly continue.

The billing of nearly $50,000 for the months of December and January is in line with that assertion. Very little work associated with Olin or Maple Meadow was done during those two months. The single biggest contributor on those two bills involved a legal battle with a private citizen who simply continues to seek appeals after losing his case. This particular circumstance has been ongoing for years.

Assuming that everything Town Counsel has said is true, there is no way to reduce the costs without coming off as disingenuous. Even if, by some miracle, he is able to come in under the magic figure of $132,800 for fiscal year 2004, one of two things must be true.

Wilmington was egregiously over-billed to the tune of $50,000 for the months of December and January, or, his firm can indeed withstand significant financial losses in order to hang onto a job and simply chose not to.

Next question. What are the strengths and areas needing improvement of Town Manager Michael Cairra and would I be inclined to revise his contract before its scheduled expiration?

Hmm, that's a toughy. His strengths? I understand that he has a wonderful singing voice and plays bass guitar in a hard rock garage band named "Local Aid."

Areas needing improvement? Last year he once showed up at a Selectmen Meeting wearing a powder blue leisure suit with a white belt and white shoes. Plus, it was after Labor Day.

I'm not sure, to be completely honest, whether I would consider revisiting his contract early. I guess it would depend on whether I thought I could get away with it. Also, if I'm the guy who ousts him, can I get his job in one of those backroom deals?

Next question. Will I be more accountable to the people who support my campaign or to the residents of the Town who voted me into office?

That depends. Which way pays better?

Steve will be appearing at Bainbridges in Chelmsford on Friday, April 16.

Stephen can be reached at stephenbjork@comcast.net.

Letters to the Editor

R.A.D. classes teach you to protect yourself

Dear Editor:
"NO, NO, NO, NO!" That's what I found myself yelling during a recent R.A.D. (Rape Aggression Defense) course I attended, sponsored and run by the Wilmington Police Department. I have never written a letter to a newspaper before and felt compelled to do so after taking this free class.

Let me give you a little background. R.A.D. classes offer women basic physical defense methods to effectively protect themselves from a physical or sexually harmful situation. The course ranges from awareness, risk reduction and avoidance. R.A.D. is not a martial arts program but a basic self-defense course that any women, at any age or any physical level can learn, and the tactics are simple. R.A.D. is the only program of its kind to offer a free lifetime return policy.

Over four classes, Officers Butch Alpers, Julie Brisbois, Steve LaRivee, and Brian Moon (certified RAD instructors), taught 16 of us tips on how to avoid conflict, verbal tactics to deter an attacker and common circumstances of sexual assault. The first class consisted of discussion to introduce us to the course. The next two classes were hands-on training on how to stop an attack, fight back and escape. The techniques were taught in a way that made them easy to remember. In the final class, we fought simulation aggressors who imitated actual attacks. The three scenarios the instructors staged were realistic and made it easy for you to go all-out and "kick butt".

As I watched the other women, one by one, approach the head to toe, pad-wielding instructors, the smiles faded from their faces and focused on the task at hand. Instinct kicks in and you react with the techniques they taught you. After the first scenario, you're even more pumped up for the next one.

I learned much more than I had anticipated and found this course enlightening but above all empowering. The classes gave me confidence in my ability to protect myself if I was ever in a threatening situation. You're never too old or unattractive, there's no stereotype of person to be attacked in any stage of life.

If you were confronted or attacked, what would you do? How would you react? I recommend you take the class and find out - you have nothing to lose. Thanks again to the Wilmington Police Officers for taking the time and interest in teaching this course and others involved for their help and support. For more information on R.A.D. go to www.wpd.org.

Champion's Choice treats local athletes like superstars

Dear Editor:
I'm writing this letter to defend the great people at Champion's Choice.

After reading the two previous letters to the editor, I feel it is time to hear from a satisfied customer. (One of many, I'm sure.) I knew nothing about autograph sessions or what it takes to run one. What I do know is that Wilmington never had a place that gave people a chance to meet and greet so many celebrities, until Champion's Choice.

I hope March third's letter from D. Selfridge didn't leave a sour taste in anyone's mouth.

I have been dealing with the Cramptons since I started coaching. To see the effort and money they dish out just for Pop Warner is astounding. They make our town's athletes look good. As today's players would tell you, if you look good, you feel good, if you feel good you play good. Their generosity has gone far and beyond any other sports establishment that I have dealt with. Even while coaching college football, Champions Choice gave me the same attention to detail. Any day, any hour they made themselves available to me for any problems, and for that I am writing this belated Thank You.

The parents of Wilmington's athletes should be proud to have a place like Champion's Choice, where all their children are treated like superstars.

Letter to the Editor

Shine: Sagal didn't exploit me

Dear Editor:

"Name Withheld by Request," from the March 17th paper, didn't have to sign their name. Their style of ad hominem (attacking the person rather than the issues) is unmistakable.

First off, let's set the record straight. Yes, I live in Burlington. I own a home in Wilmington, and pay 100% the same tax as anyone else.

Secondly, yes, I own Eagle Mail Company, and yes, I did do Karl Sagal's mailing. I also did the political mailings for just about every candidate in Lexington and candidates in Woburn, Concord, Haverhill, Lowell, Burlington, and many more. That is what my company does. I also did mailings for the Wilmington Police Patrolman Association, and the Wilmington Firefighters Union. Why didn't you mention those? Mike McCoy called me seeking advice and information to increase his business. That's my job, and I take my job seriously.

The writer accuses me of attacking the person and not the issue, "ad hominem." Obviously, the writer never even saw "Perspectives," or they would never have written that letter. If you did see the show, then you are either involved with all the corruption in Wilmington, or you are in denial. The issues were right there! Plain as day!

I have been attacking the "issues" for over three years, at a cost to me of thousands of dollars. The town hall thugs have been attacking me, and not the issues. What is the issue? A home was built, out of the scope of the bylaws, next to my home. Who knew about it? The building inspector, the town manager, the selectman, the surveyor, the builder, and the homeowners themselves, all knew about it before the house was ever built. It was documented and signed by the building inspector three months before the house was even built. They stole land from an adjoining neighbor (documented), then threatened, intimidated, harassed, and belittled her for standing up to them. They refused to comply with the bylaws of not just the town, but of the State of Massachusetts, imprisoning a defenseless, crippled old lady by denying handicapped accessibility to her home. Why? Because she and I attempted to pressure the building inspector, town manager, selectman, and the others involved to do their job and enforce the building bylaws.

So why don't I go to the appeals board? Did you know, in order to get to the appeals board, you have to submit your complaint to the building inspector, for approval first? Do you think the building inspector is going to allow anyone to come before the appeals board with proof that he accepted forged documents, and failed to do his job?

Every time I went before the selectmen, the town manager, or the former chairman of the selectman, they would change the subject, start a diversion, or ignore my request to just LOOK at the documents in my hand. Why? Because they already knew what I had and they knew it would reveal their negligence and complicity in the fraud, facts they don't want in the public eyes. IF you had watched the show, you would have seen that, and you would never have written those remarks. That is unless you already knew, or you are involved and want to cover it up along with them. So, which is it?

How would YOU feel, if they did it to you - destroyed the property that had been in your family for generations? How would YOU feel if your mother was treated like mine was? You should be ashamed of yourself for writing that letter and making those remarks.

Did Karl Sagal "exploit" me? Absolutely not! Karl Sagal did his job, inviting a person with concerns to exercise their first amendment right to freedom of speech.

You make a big deal that I live in Burlington. Yes, I do, but my family and I have done more for this town than the building inspector, who, as you probably know, lives in a high rise apartment in Cambridge. He has never lived in the town. His only attachment is the big paycheck, and any other bonuses he takes back to Cambridge every week.

To them, everything has to be about money. If I were after money, I would have filed suit already. If it were all about money, any attorney would jump at this case. But it's NOT about money. It's all about accountability, doing your job, and applying the same laws and rules to everyone and not just a selected few.

Why doesn't the town manager tell the people of Wilmington what happens if I sue the town? Because there is no insurance for fraud, and anything I or anyone else sues for will come right off the top of the town budget? It would come out of the police and fire salaries, teachers' salaries, the senior's budget, and high school athletics. Why should I lower myself to their level and exploit whatever I can from the town? Why should I hurt others to suit myself, like the town hall thugs have?

What am I after? I want my land title restored and the by-laws enforced, and those responsible held accountable. Something they all refuse to do because it exposes all the corruption and illegal building going on in Wilmington. Exploitation is encouraged and covered up by people who should be doing the jobs they were appointed or hired to do. The building inspector was hired to uphold the by-laws of this town and he ignored them, abused them, and exploited them for his own benefit. He works for the town manager. He should be fired for what he did, and if the town manager can't do his job, then he should be fired as well. If any of the selectmen fail to do what the people expect of them, or abuse their position, including abandoning their post and deserting their command or profiteering, they should also answer to the people who voted for them.

If enforcing the by-laws means tearing down or moving that or any other illegal buildings, then so be it. I know any homeowner has a legal right to sue the town for its negligence, and I know next time it would be all about money.

I give Karl Sagal credit for being man enough and having the guts to stand up to the town hall thugs. That's the type of selectman the people of Wilmington need. I don't live in Wilmington, but if I did, YES I would support him or anyone else that would represent the people of the town and not the special interest groups.

If you want to know who exploited me, look in the town hall. I will not be intimidated by you, them or anyone else!

Frederick Shine

SAVING ON YOUR HOMEOWNERS INSURANCE

If you are faced with increases in your homeowners insurance premiums, bear in mind that rising construction costs and expensive catastrophes have led to higher costs. Record low interest rates have also led many homeowners to make upgrades and additions to their existing homes, which creates more house to insure. One way homeowners may reduce costs is to consider modernizing their heating, plumbing, and electrical systems to reduce the potential for fire and water damage. After these upgrades are made, inform the insurance company. Also request information on steps that you might take to make your home more resistant to wind damage and other natural disasters. You may be able to save on your premiums by following their advice.

Your interests are our highest priority. When you insure with us, you will be treated with the courtesy and respect you deserve as a valued client. We have an individual plan to meet your specific needs. The advice we give is derived from your individual or family needs and situations. For more information or to schedule an appointment, we invite you to call today at 978-657-7200. You'll Like the Way We do Business.™

NOTE: You may be able to get discounts on your homeowners insurance by adding deadbolt locks to your exterior doors.

Tewksbury Public Library sponsoring poetry contest

TEWKSBURY - Tewksbury Public Library is celebrating National Poetry Month during April 2004. They are joining hundreds of other libraries, schools and bookstores that are encouraging people to read poetry for the fun of it.

Poetry comes in many forms and styles and in a variety of subjects. It can be fiction, nonfiction, music lyrics, collections, in English or other languages, read silently or performed in public. It promotes reading and writing and appeals to a wide audience.

In honor of this amazing literature, Tewksbury Public Library is sponsoring a town-wide poetry contest.

- The rules for the contest are:
- Poems can be about any topic, but must be your own original work.
 - Poems must be between three and twenty lines in length.
 - You must be a Tewksbury resident.

All entries must be submitted by Saturday, April 17, 2004. The contest is divided into the following age categories: kindergarten to grade 3, grades 4 to 6, middle school, high school, and adult.

Great prizes like Barnes and Noble gift certificates will be awarded to poets in each category. In addition to receiving prizes winners will have their poems published in the local newspapers, displayed at Tewksbury Public Library, and posted on the library's website.

Stop by the library today for an application form and a chance to be famous! When you visit, remember to check out our special staff poetry display during the month of April.

For more information or to submit your poem online, log on to our website: www.tewksburypl.org.

Dan Woodbury running for the Wilmington Board of Selectmen

Who is Dan Woodbury?

I have been extremely active for Wilmington over the past 10 years.

I have lived at 20 Central Street in Wilmington for 19 years.

I have been married for 22 years. My wife Catherine and I have 4 children, Cameron, Amelia, Sean and Avery in the Wilmington School system, ages 14, 12, 11 and 8 respectively.

I received my BS in Biology graduating from Emmanuel College in Boston, Magna Cum Laude with Distinction in the Field and a member of the Beta Beta Beta Biological National Honor Society. I have also attended Tufts Graduate School of Chemical Engineering in the Biotechnology program.

I have worked at Wyeth Biopharma, formerly Genetics Institute, for the past 7 years for the RAHF Cell Culture Team. We are part of a process that produces a bulk drug substance named Recombinate[®], which is distributed world wide to treat the hemophilic population.

I am a member of the Wilmington Master Plan Committee.

What are my accomplishments?

I was a principal in the formation of the Wilmington Taxpayers for Spaces Solutions; a team of residents that educated the public to the space needs of our schools and our public safety buildings. We sponsored a ballot question for a debt exclusion to construct a new Middle School and a new Public Safety Building. After winning the ballot vote we brought out more than 800 residents to appropriate the funds at Annual Town Meeting.

I was responsible for ensuring the Jason Stevenson Memorial Park be replaced with the Jason Stevenson Memorial Playground at Rotary Park after the construction of the Wilmington Public Safety Building.

I was a principal on a team to be the first residents to call for a Special Town Meeting to override an Annual Town Meeting vote.

I was a principal on a team to be the first to reverse an Annual Town Meeting vote. Reconsideration of the vote brought approximately 1200 residents out for a very close but defining decision.

In 2003 I was the first resident to bring an article to Annual Town Meeting, which was passed that would change the 54-year-old Wilmington Town Charter. If approved on the ballot, Article 38 will no longer allow Selectmen to appoint a Selectman to a vacancy on the Board of Selectmen. It would now call for a Special Election for voters to fill the position. This will give back to the people the right to vote for their selectman. After approval by the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the Senate, the Governor vetoed the article. The House overrode the Governor's veto 156-0 and the Senate overrode the veto 36-0. The Article will now be on the ballot on April 17th.

What are my current goals?

Ensure responsible growth in the Town of Wilmington and address the constraints of 40B development through changes in zoning and adapting those changes into the Town of Wilmington's Master Plan.

We need to create affordable housing for all our seniors and not leave them out in the cold.

We need to maintain, not sell our current open space and increase the public access and use by creating neighborhood parks and trails.

I want to open public dialogue on the disposition of surplus lands before it comes to an emotional request at town meeting.

I want to focus on Economic Development to create jobs for local residents and strengthen our commercial tax base.

I want to encourage collaboration and respect among the people that work for the Town of Wilmington and the people who volunteer and provide community service for the town of Wilmington.

I want to address traffic mitigation and make our streets safer and more user friendly for our residents by increasing and maintaining our sidewalks and create bicycle paths on our major thoroughfares. I also want to increase a police presence on the "cut through" streets and to keep speed limits strictly enforced.

I want a new Fire Sub-Station in North Wilmington. I also want to maintain two ambulances and qualified personnel to operate the vehicles, equipment and any conditions that they may encounter.

I want the traffic lights that were designed as part of the Public Safety Building to be installed before a tragedy happens.

I want accountability of our appointed and elected officials. I want decisions made publicly and in the open.

I want to address the recreational needs of our youth and to create safe facilities for them to use.

I want to maintain vigilance towards our natural resources and the health issues that are currently associated with them.

I want to provide excellence and the opportunity for the best education possible for all of our children by maintaining our schools, their facilities and to keep teacher student ratios at acceptable levels.

I will not use my position for personal gains. My objectives are to ensure and maintain the highest possible quality of life for all Wilmington residents.

I look forward to working for you and with you to make Wilmington a healthier, safer and more peaceful community.

EDITOR'S NOTE. Candidates' announcement are published, verbatim, as they are submitted.

Candidates, therefore, need to spell correctly and be as clear, grammatically sound and to-the-point as possible.

The deadline by which The Town Crier will accept such announcements from Wilmington candidates is Monday, April 5.

Coordinator for Marshalls.

Going forward, Mr. Peters sees a need to address the continuing and growing traffic problems in town. The issue of water pressure in some areas of town, drainage problems such as in the areas of Marshall St., Brentwood Rd., South St. near Bridge St. and on Rt. 38 at the Shawsheen St. intersection, all need positive action taken. We need to acquire the ambulance for the South Fire Station as high percentage of calls for service come from this area.

We need to address the expansion of the Senior Center for our senior citizens, many of which are Veterans. Addressing the overcrowding and inadequacies of our current center, it is clear that they deserve better from us!

Mr. Peters also sees a need to place a grant writer on staff, especially now, when money is the tightest, so that we can take advantage of the grant money that is available, helping to relieve the tax burden on the Town of Tewksbury taxpayers.

Mr. Peters would appreciate your support and vote on Election Day, Saturday, April 3, 2004.

Greg Peters seeks seat on the Tewksbury Board of Selectmen

Greg was born and raised in Tewksbury. He was a member of the Teen Theater workshop and is a member of the Order of DeMolay. He attended Tewksbury Schools through Junior High, helping out after school with the family business, the Merrimack Valley Advertiser. He attended Shawsheen Tech. High School, where he graduated with honors, in 1976, receiving the Citizenship Award for his work with the Learning Disabilities Program. After graduating, Greg went to work at the Tewksbury State Hospital Special Diets Kitchen where he was Union Steward and was elected twice to the Executive Board of the AFSCME Local.

Greg has volunteered at the Senior Center, such as the auctions to benefit the Senior Center Building Fund and the Serve Food Program. He has volunteered and served on the Route 38 Corridor Study Committee. Greg has also volunteered and helped with the promotion of the rebuild of the South Fire Station.

Mr. Peters has volunteered and is serving on the State Hospital Land Use Committee.

While serving on this committee, Greg has actively worked in cooperation with our State Senator Susan Tucker, State Representative Jim Miceli, State Representative Barry Finegold and the Department of Public Health to draft legislation which seeks to preserve approximately 600 acres of land at the Tewksbury State Hospital which is now working its way through the State House.

Mr. Peters also volunteers and serves on the Tewksbury Local Housing Partnership which has developed Guidelines and Procedures for the Zoning Board of Appeals review of Chapter 40B permits. Nearing completion is the Comprehensive Permit Policies and Procedures which conveys our town's expectations for housing developed under Chapter 40B.

Greg also volunteers and serves on the Tewksbury Conservation Commission, now in his 4th year as a Conservation Commissioner, protecting wetlands and open space for Tewksbury.

Wilmington Library Notes by Christina Stewart

Library Trustees to hold Public Forums

Wilmington Memorial Library's Long Range Plan FY01 to FY05 will expire next fiscal year and the Board of Trustees would like to know what library services are most important to Wilmington residents as the library begins to develop it next five year plan. Three public forums are planned to gather information that will be used to help develop a long range plan that is responsive to community needs and interests. Residents are invited to register for one of the following forums: Monday, May 3rd at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 12th at 1 p.m. or Sunday, May 16 at 1 p.m. To register, visit or call the library at 978-658-2967 beginning April 5th. Registration may also be done on the library's website www.wilmlibrary.org.

House Tour Tickets

The Friends of the Library will sponsor Wilmington House Tours 2004 on Sunday, May 2, 1 p.m.-5 p.m. Advance tickets go on sale for $20 per ticket beginning Saturday, April 3rd at 9 a.m. at the library. A special Friends membership price of $15 for one ticket is available from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on April 3rd. Anyone joining the Friends at that time will be eligible for the discount price. Tickets on May 2nd, the day of the tour, will be $25.

Friends fund pass to the Peabody Essex Museum

The library now has a pass to the Peabody Essex Museum in Salem, Massachusetts. This pass is funded by the Friends of the Library. The pass provides free admission for two people.

The Peabody Essex Museum is one of the largest museums on the east coast. The collections include Asian art and culture, Native American, African and Oceanic art and three centuries of New England art and architecture.

To reserve this pass, call the library at 978-658-2967. School vacation week is a great opportunity to take advantage of all the passes available at the library. For a complete list pick up a flyer at the library's main desk or check the library's web site at www.wilmlibrary.org.

Books in Bloom

Don't miss "Books in Bloom" currently on display at the Wilmington Memorial Library through April 3rd. See the Wilmington Garden Club's floral interpretation of ten different books, including "Empire Falls." You will find eight floral arrangements on the first floor and two on the second floor of the library.

Poetry Contest Deadline

The deadline for the library's annual poetry contest is Friday, April 2. The 2004 theme is Food. Applications are available at the library and on the library's website. Winners will be invited to read their poems and receive their prizes on Poetry Night, Tuesday, April 27th.

Empire Falls Gift Basket Winner

Patty Kasparian was the lucky winner of the Empire Falls Gift Basket drawn at the Friends of the Library Annual Meeting. Winners were also drawn for a variety of Empire Falls memorabilia given by friends from Maine in support of Wilmington Reads Empire Falls.

Upcoming Children's Programs

Children ages five and older are invited to register for A Tree is Nice: Stories & Craft program on Tuesday, April 6th at 3:30 pm. Visit or call the Children's Room at (978) 694-2098 to register for this program.

Book Discussions for Children

Dave at Night by Gail Carson Levine was chosen by kids ages nine and older for their book discussion on Friday, April 2nd at 3:30 pm. 7 X 9 = Trouble! by Claudia Mills will be discussed by children ages seven and older for their book discussion on Friday, April 16th at 3:30 pm. Both discussions are drop-in programs with refreshments and a door prize provided by the Friends.

Upcoming Teen Events

Open Mike Night

Teen Coffee House & Open Mike Night will be held on Monday, April 12th at 7pm. Performers can sign up in the Teen Zone (on the 2nd fl.) or by calling 978-694-2098.

Teen Comics Club

Teen Comics Club will meet on Monday, April 5th at 7pm. All students in grades 6-12 are invited. Door prize provided by the Friends of the Library.

Teen Book Discussion

Teen Book Discussion II will be held on Tuesday, April 20th at 3:30 pm. The group will talk about The Outcasts by E. L. Schuyler Place by E. L. Konigsburg.

A Chance to Meet pro skateboarder Tony Hawk

Think Tony Hawk's new video game is rad? Well, reading a book could land you some face-to-face time with the man himself. If you're between the ages of 12 and 18, you have until April 23rd to submit an entry in the national "Get on Board and Read @ your library" program. The grand prize? A trip to meet Tony at a stop on his 2004 "Boom Boom HuckJam Tour" featuring top action sports stars. The runner-up prizes are pretty cool too. You may win a Tony Hawk skateboard, a copy of Tony's book, Hawk: Occupation, Skateboarder, or a one month's supply of HER-SHEY'S Milk and MilkShakes. To enter, read a book and create an entry on the message of the book and why it's meaningful to you. Entries can be essays or "creative" entries, such as a painting, poem, collage or video. You can also work in a group with up to three of your friends or by yourself. You just need the Teen Services Librarian, Nathalie Demers, from the Wilmington Memorial Library to sponsor you in the program. Want more information on how to get involved? Stop by library or visit the "Get on Board and Read @ your library" Web site at www.hersheysmilk.com/getonboard.

Nikodemos on Wheaton College's Dean's List

WILMINGTON - Jaclyn Nikodemos of Wilmington, a freshman at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts, has been named to the Dean's List for the fall 2003 Semester.

American Cancer Society to hold workshop

LOWELL - The Lowell unit of the American Cancer Society will hold a "Look Good... Feel Better" seminar on Monday, April 5, from 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. at the Lowell General Hospital Cancer Center's conference room at 295 Varnum Avenue in Lowell. Pre-registration is required. To register call Colleen DeBuc at 978-937-6519. "Look Good... Feel Better" is a free program that teaches cancer patients hands-on cosmetic techniques to help them cope with appearance-related side effects from chemotherapy or radiation treatments.

Wig care, scarf and hat use, skin care and nail care will all be discussed, and all participants will receive a free make-up kit. Cosmetologists certified or trained by the American Cancer Society will conduct the seminar, which is non-medical and does not promote any product line.

The seminar will be a free, supportive, informative, and enjoyable first step toward renewed self-esteem, self-confidence, and emotional recovery for cancer patients undergoing radiation or chemotherapy.

For more information on local programs of research, detection, education, and patient services please contact The American Cancer Society's cancer information line, 1-800-ACS-2345 and web site, www.cancer.org.

House tours Sunday May 2nd

WILMINGTON - Again this spring the Friends of Wilmington Memorial Library will be inviting the public to join them for their Wilmington House Tour.

Seven sites will be open for touring on May 2nd from 1 to 5 p.m. Two in the High Street Historic District and in other parts of town including the Silver Lake area.

Advance tickets ($20) are available beginning Saturday at the Wilmington Memorial Library. Tickets ($25) will be available on the day of the event at the Masonic Hall on 32 Church St. (Rt 62) which will serve as the tour's hospitality center, where there will be ticket sales, refreshments and public restrooms.

Members of the Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library will be able to purchase tickets for a reduced price ($15) during the initial offering on April 3. Non-members of the Friends are encouraged to become members at that time and receive the reduced fee for the tour.

Children under the age of 12 will not be allowed on the tours.

One of the homes on the tour is that of Nancy and Stu Neilson on High Street. The home known as the Augustus (Gus) Norton House at 67 High Street is one of 17 houses that comprise the newly created High Street Historic District listed in 2003 on the National Register of Historic Places.

Built in 1929 by A.M. Surette, a builder from Reading, in the Neo-Federal style, it replaced the Sidelinker House which Mr. Norton had moved to 47 High Street and which still stands at that location.

Previous to that, it is believed that Richard Harnden, one of the town's earliest settlers, built a house on this spot around 1666, a house which probably stood until the 1860's. Mr. Augustus Norton and his wife, Winifred, who had both been living "next door" at 57 High Street, moved into the house now at 67 High Street in 1930 and remained there for the rest of their lives.

During that time they saw their daughter Elizabeth married in the living room of 67 High Street to Captain Larz Neilson, who was to become the owner and editor of the Wilmington Town Crier. They also saw their neighborhood change from a quiet country lane to a suburban street running parallel to a major highway (Route 93) in the late 1950's. With the death of Augustus Norton in 1970, Larz and Elizabeth Neilson, who had been living in the family's old house at 57 High Street, moved into the house at 67 High Street and the house has been in the Neilson family ever since.

This is a house that feels lived-in and modern, yet retains the dignity and atmosphere of a home of its era, with furnishings that are perfectly suited to the house. A few of the interesting details in the front parlor, or living room, are the picture rail at the top of the wall, the beautiful hardwood floors, a fireplace, an impressive 75 year old piano and a magnificent grandfather clock. Also downstairs is a comfortable den off the living room; a recently remodeled kitchen, which was enlarged but still retains its period feel and much original glass door cabinetry; and a dining room containing Gus Norton's many-leaved dining room table.

The second floor with its wood flooring, more picture railing, newly reconfigured and remodeled bathroom and three comfortable bedrooms is also comfortable and well furnished, but the "Elvis room" is the most unique. Small and located at the back of the house, for many years the sewing room for Winni Norton, this room is now a home office with a fun and eye catching display of Elvis Presley memorabilia.

For more information on the tours call 978-658-2967.

Top Prize of $5,000 for College Offered to Winners Students invited to enter statewide art competition

Massachusetts students in the third, fourth, and fifth grades are invited to enter an art competition where the top prize is $5,000 for college. The contest, sponsored by the Massachusetts Educational Financing Authority (MEFA), encourages students to dream about their future and reminds parents about the importance of saving for a college education.

The College Savings Art Competition is open to third, fourth, and fifth grade students in Massachusetts public, private, charter and home schools. Students are invited to submit artwork on the theme, "What do I want to be when I graduate from college?"

A first, second and third place winner will be selected from each grade. First place winners will receive $5,000, the second place finishers will receive $2,000, and the third place winners will receive $1,000 all payable directly to a U. Fund account established for the benefit of the child submitting the winning entry.

Further information is available through MEFA by calling 1(800) 449-MEFA (6332), or by visiting MEFA's Web site at www.mefa.org/contest.

Arthritis Support Group

The Lowell General Hospital Arthritis Support Group will hold a meeting on Friday, April 9, from 8:00 to 9:30 a.m. in Clark Auditorium. Guest speaker Carol Legro, RN, specializes in stress management and she will teach ways to relieve stress.

Turkey Dinner and Penny Sale

Tewksbury/Wilmington Emblem Club will be holding a Penny Sale and Turkey Pot Pie dinner on Monday, April 26 at 6:30 p.m. at the Elks Lodge on South Street in Tewksbury.

The meal will be prepared by the ever popular Rita Fortier. A donation of $6.00 is requested.

For reservations or information call Joyce Gigliotti, Chairman at 781-729-0912 or e-mail at joycegig@comcast.net.

All proceeds to benefit the Mass. State Banquet Fund. Donations would be appreciated for the Penny Sale and Raffle.

Persaud- Dubey makes Dean's List

Mya Persaud-Dubey has been named to the Dean's List at UMass Lowell. She is majoring in Bio-Chemistry and will graduate this year.

Mya is the daughter of Amine and Raj Persaud-Dubey of Wilmington and a 2000 graduate of Wilmington High School.

IF IT SOUNDS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE... IT PROBABLY IS

"We the People" are not alone in our opposition to the proposed Mills Mega Mall on the Perkins Trust land in Tewksbury. Here's what others have said:

SELECTMAN COLDWELL SAID "...AT THE TOP OF HIS CONCERNS, BEYOND TRAFFIC, IS A SITE PLAN WHICH DOES NOT HAVE COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS OR DEVELOPMENT SITTING NEXT TO SOMEBODY'S BACK YARD. HE WANTS A BUFFER ZONE..."

Charles Coldwell in the Tewksbury Advocate January 2001

What's changed since then? Nothing! So why has Coldwell changed his tune???

SELECTMAN JOSEPH GILL SAID HE DOES NOT SEE THAT "WITH NEW HAMPSHIRE LESS THAN 10 MILES AWAY, HOW A MALL CAN SURVIVE IN MASSACHUSETTS?..."

Joseph Gill in the Tewksbury Advocate January 2001

What's changed since then? Nothing! So why has Gill changed his tune???

"I'VE BEEN IN OFFICE FOR A LITTLE BIT OF TIME, AND I HAVE SEEN A LOT OF THESE ROADS THAT WERE SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN BUILT, AND A LOT OF THESE RAMPS THAT SHOULD HAVE BEEN BUILT, NEVER COME TO FRUITION...THINGS HAPPEN. I KNOW OF NOTHING TODAY THAT GUARANTEES AN ACCESS INTO THE PROPERTY YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT, IN THE VERY NEAR FUTURE. AND THAT IS AS BLUNT AS I CAN BE."

Representative James Miceli, to the Tewksbury Board of Selectmen on 3/24/04

"IT'S IMPORTANT THAT PEOPLE IN WILMINGTON KNOW WHAT'S GOING ON AND WHAT IMPACT THEY (Mills) WILL HAVE ON OUR COMMUNITY." Wilmington Selectman Suzanne Sullivan 3/25/04

The citizens of Tewksbury have a voice and it should be heard. It's your choice. Don't let a powerful few make the choice for you.

The Selectmen have promised us a public hearing on the Mills Mall proposal on April 15, 2004. Stay tuned and plan on attending.

Come to the SPECIAL TOWN MEETING on MAY 4. It may be the most important town meeting in a generation where we will decide the future of Tewksbury.

Sponsored by STOMP, a concerned group of citizens who are NOT against ALL development on the Perkins land. STOMP supports "Smart Growth." And there is nothing "Smart" about the Mills proposed Mega Mall. To find out more, visit us at: <http://groups.msn.com/stompthemall>

12th Wilmington reunion held in sunny Florida

TARPON SPRINGS, FL - March 20th found that again this year Florida's weather, for the Wilmington Reunion, lived up to its billing by the Chamber of Commerce. The sun was shining brightly, the temperature was about 82 degrees and there was a light breeze blowing from the Gulf of Mexico at Fred Howard Park in Tarpon Springs.

About 97 people filled Shelter #8 with their folding chairs, coolers, picnic baskets, laughter and talk, talk, talk.

Some of the faithful faces were missing, but there were many new ones coming for the first time. Those lucky enough to be in the right place at the right time were treated to Zenaida Pellerin's home made egg rolls and Dora Ardolino had bags of grapefruit to give to anyone who wanted some. Del Hunter passed a card to be signed for Frankie Griffin who had had a successful brain operation the day before.

Some of those attending were: Ed and Jeannette Van Steensburg
Pat and Anne Ring
Ray and Sally York
Don and Joyce Blake

THE BOY'S CLUB: Ted Wicks, Bozo McHugh, Irving Belbin and Paul Burke proved that some men have the courage to show their knees, as the rest of Wilmington waded through snowdrifts left from the St. Patrick's Day snowstorm. Wilmington residents have become renowned for the gathering of dozens of friends at Tarpon Springs for their 12 annual reunion.

DAY AT THE BEACH: Bea (Weatherbee) Randell, Mary (Wicks) Doherty, Vonnie (Wicks) Welch, and Shirley (Ansteg) Whalen enjoyed each other's company as nearly 100 "Wilmingtonites" gathered in Florida for a reunion of "Snowbirds". Some of the part time Florida residents plan their vacations to be in "Wilmington-south" to see the same people they see all year long - in brilliant sunshine.

Wilmington High School Band to march in Cherry Blossom Festival Parade

On Thursday April 1st, nearly 100 members of the Wilmington High School Band will be leaving Wilmington to participate in the 2004 National Cherry Blossom Festival Parade in Washington DC. The parade that annually draws nearly 100,000 spectators, steps off on Saturday, April 3 at 10 a.m. and marches up Constitution Avenue from 7th Ave to the area of the White House. This is the first invitation for the Wildcat Band to march in the Cherry Blossom Parade. In previous years the Band has participated in the D.C. St. Patrick's Day Parade.

In addition to the parade, band members will be touring National Monuments, Veteran's Memorials, Arlington National Cemetery and The Smithsonian Museums. They will also be enjoying an evening Dinner Cruise on the Potomac River.

Band Director, Ms. Barbara Mette is enthusiastic about the opportunity to perform in one of the Nations most prestigious parades in one of its most spectacular cities. The parade celebrates the donation of 3,000 Cherry Trees given as a gift to the United States by the Japanese Government in 1912. The trees are planted around the Tidal Basin in the vicinity of the Jefferson Monument and provide an annual stunning display during the celebration and festivities.

This spring the band is proud to show off their stylish new all weather sideline coats that have been obtained through a generous donation of the Wilmington Sons of Italy. The coats are water resistant, a striking blue and white design with a Wildcat emblem on the front, and a distinctive blue W.H.S. logo on a white cow background adorns the back. Ms. Mette and the band members continue to be deeply appreciative of the continued support of the Wilmington Sons of Italy and all of their other sponsors. They are eagerly awaiting their opportunity to represent Wilmington in this National Parade.

Wilmington Arts Center

Teen singer Desmond to perform this weekend

WILMINGTON - Seventeen-year-old singer/songwriter Casey Desmond will be performing at the Wilmington Art Center at 219 Middlesex Avenue on Saturday evening, April 3, from 7 to 9 p.m. Tickets/admission is at the door, $5.00 adults/$2.00 seniors/students with IDs and children under 12 years. Light refreshments will be provided free of charge.

Multi-talented Casey is a high school senior from South Weymouth, who is graduating with the Class of 2004. In her hometown, she has been awarded a 5-year Merit Scholarship to The Art Institute of Boston at Leslie University, where she will be majoring in Illustration starting this September. In February 2004, Casey's portfolio won a regional Scholastic Art Award Portfolio Gold Key, and she has been entered into their national competition in New York. As a songwriter, singer and musician, she is just as impressive. Casey is able to play guitar, piano and bass guitar. Her original folk compositions are mature, yet possess the beautiful innocence of her youth. On Casey's 2002 self-titled CD, produced when she was just 15 years old, lyrics such as "Temptations eyes are eying me/Way too shabby for your eyes to see/a miracle isn't new/Take a single breath/add it to your weary/mornings for honey dew" from her song "Temptation", is indicative of her gifted ability as a unique songwriter. She is currently working on her next CD of original music at Barefoot Studios and Q Division Recording Studios. These specific professional recording facilities in the Boston area have also hosted productions to successful musicians such as James Taylor, Aimee Mann, Destiny's Child, Morphine, Kay Hanley and Patty Larkin. She has performed at venues like the Zietgeist Gallery in Inman Square, Cambridge MA., and is scheduled to play at Brewed Awakenings Coffeehouse in Hingham, MA., in June 2004. Casey Desmond is a bright, compassionate young girl who also loves animals, particularly geckoes, and she has eight of them that she breeds. She has been working very hard on rehearsing her music for the April 3rd show and is excited to come to the Wilmington Art Center to perform. The Wilmington Council for the Arts is proud to support such a talented young artist with a great future.

St. William's Church

Parents camp all night to get kids into CCD class

By STEPHEN BJORK

TEWKSBURY - Most people will camp out for concert tickets and sporting events. Tewksbury parents, however, were willing to camp out to secure a slot in a local religious education program.

That's what a group of parents did last Friday night, in their hopes of landing for their child one of the 90 spots that are open for the summer CCD program at St. William's Church.

St. William's, the only Catholic Church in Tewksbury, generally provides religious education to children one night a week for 26 weeks. The program is currently educating 1,800 children. From those classes, 168 children received Confirmation in November, 142 children received Confirmation in March, and 218 children are scheduled to receive Confirmation in April and May. Last summer, Debbie Albano, the Director of Religious Education for St. William's, developed a summer program as an alternative for children in grades one through six, servicing a total of 120 children. The program lasts for a week and the children attend only two more classes during the course of the year. The program succeeded and Albano increased the capacity for summer students this year to 240.

Parishioners volunteering their time to the endeavor were provided with the opportunity to have their children in the program before that chance was given to the general public. With roughly 100 volunteers, only 90 spots were left for the registration on this past Saturday morning.

Despite increasing the size of the program, 90 spots were not enough to meet demand. As a result, some parents were critical of Albano.

"We doubled the size of the program, but we weren't able to make everyone happy," said Albano. "We are providing an additional opportunity for learning. Most parishes don't have a summer program because they can't get volunteers to commit during summertime."

On Friday afternoon, Albano posted the number of remaining spots at the church. She also left an outgoing message on the church's voice mail that informed parents about the availability.

"We have 3,600 registered families in our parish and do our very best to service all of them," Albano said.

Sally Garipey showed up at the church at 3 p.m. on Friday and was third in line for a 7th grade spot. Her daughter participated in the program last year and she was very impressed with it. Garipey would have liked to have seen the program expanded further, but she realizes that coordinators could not have expected such a demand.

"I can't say anything bad about the program," said Garipey. "It was unfortunate that we had to do what we did, but I was more than willing to do it."

Sal Matranga arrived on the scene at 6 p.m. on Friday evening to secure spots for his two children. He would like to see the church consider sponsoring two weeks in the summer.

"I'm just glad I was one of the first in line and was able to get my kids in," said Matranga.

Matranga understood why volunteers getting first dibs for their kids for the program, but he also felt the arrangement was somewhat unfair to those not able to volunteer.

Wendy Spinelli had the right idea. Those waiting in line were allowed to sign up their own children plus the children of one other family. Spinelli and her neighbor shared the chore of waiting in line. Spinelli arrived at midnight on Friday night and stayed until two in the morning, at which time she was replaced in line by her neighbor. Spinelli came back and relieved her neighbor at 6 a.m. and was ready to register three hours later.

"Our girls did the program last year and they loved it and got so much out of it," said Spinelli.

Spinelli described the mood of those in line as upbeat. She didn't hear any complaining during the night. She wouldn't imagine that Albano could have predicted such a demand this year.

Spinelli did offer sympathy for at least one of those in line. "The guy behind me was really mad," said Spinelli. "He has two second graders and was told that two spots were open, but someone snapped them up before he got to register."

According to Albano, she has fielded some complaints, but she says that 99 percent of the feedback has been positive. She may consider a lottery system next year to avoid having parents camping out over night, but she remains firm that volunteers will get first shot.

"Without the volunteers we have nothing," said Albano.

Possibilities for expanding the program in the future will be explored. Albano hopes that anyone who has been frustrated will remain patient and keep the larger picture of the services offered in mind.

"People have to remember that this is a positive program," said Albano. "This is to bring faith to the children in our parish, and that is the most important thing."

Veterans Affairs Director Jim Williams will speak at hockey game

By STEPHEN BJORK

TEWKSBURY - The Lowell Lock Monsters Hockey Club will be hosting the Town of Tewksbury's Community Night on Thursday, April 8 when they face off against the Hartford Wolf Pack.

Tewksbury's own Director of Veterans Affairs, Jim Williams, will be on the ice that night, making a speech between the second and third periods of play, welcoming Tewksbury residents to the arena.

Tewksbury residents and employees are able to purchase tickets at a discounted rate of $10 per ticket. Two dollars from every ticket goes toward funding Tewksbury's 2004 Memorial Day Parade, with its theme of "Remembering World War II Veterans."

Williams has high hopes for the Community Night, as this is its first year.

"We are exploring different ways to bring money into the budget without burdening the taxpayers," said Williams.

For good family fun, Williams recommends the Lock Monsters highly. He has already attended three games this season with his grandson.

"It is a very family-friendly atmosphere," said Williams.

The Lock Monsters are having a good season this year, with a record of 32 and 30, but they will have to be on their game to beat the Wolf Pack, who boasts a record of 38 and 20. Hartford was able to come away from their last encounter with the Lock Monsters with a hard fought victory. April 8 will be the Lock Monster's opportunity to even the score a bit.

Williams has been given no ceiling on the number of tickets that he is able to sell for the discounted rate to Tewksbury residents and employees. He would love to sell the arena out. He encourages people to stop by Town Hall at 1009 Main Street to purchase tickets or to call him at 978-640-4485 for more information.

The game will begin at 7 p.m. and will be held at the Tsongas Arena in Lowell.

More information regarding the Lowell Lock Monsters can be obtained by visiting www.lockmonsters.com.

Three teens arrested for violence an 18-year-old woman from West Woburn. Sylvia reportedly threatened a man from the area of Central Square in Woburn who was about to intervene in the attack on behalf of the victim.

According to police, the Central Square man is the current boyfriend of the victim. The man is also the ex-boyfriend of one of the Wilmington girls. He had arranged to return some of his ex-girlfriend's property at a meeting place in Wilmington.

When he met her in Wilmington, the former girlfriend apparently became upset because the Central Square man was accompanied by the West Woburn woman. After the former girlfriend's belongings were returned to her, she and Sylvia and the other 15-year-old Wilmington girl reportedly got into Sylvia's car and followed the Woburn couple on Main Street into Woburn.

At the intersection of Main and School Streets in Woburn, the West Woburn woman and the former girlfriend started fighting. According to police, the second Wilmington girl soon jumped into the fray.

Sylvia reportedly grabbed a baseball bat that was in the back seat of his car. He allegedly threatened the Woburn man.

Both sides eventually got back into their respective cars and continued traveling south until the Woburn couple spotted a police cruiser at the rotary at Main Street and Route 128.

Sylvia reportedly turned his car around and headed back to Wilmington. He was eventually pulled over by an officer of the Wilmington Police Department.

After speaking to everyone involved, the police determined that the three Wilmington teenagers were the "primary aggressors."

Residents, candidates meet at the roundtable

The LWV is a grass roots public service organization devoted to promoting the active participation of citizens in government. It is nonpartisan and does not support or oppose any given candidate or political party. Membership is open to all citizens who are 18 years of age and older.

"It is so important to get involved in the issues and this is a nice interactive way to do that," said Kent. "Maybe some of these people will walk away with a new idea or with a different opinion about some of the issues."

The Candidates' Night was videotaped for WCTV and will be shown before the Annual Town Election on Saturday, April 17.

renegotiate his contract again, in order to come in line with the expectations of the town, according to Newhouse. He believes that the days of a fixed rate of $132,800 are gone, but there is a middle ground.

"The mistake," said Newhouse, "was in underestimating the time necessary for an effective transition. There is no need to rush this process."

Sagal feels that there is a problem with renegotiating any contract without the means to pay for the resulting bills. He stated that it was not an act of good government for the board to allow DeRensis to renegotiate his contract as he did. He agreed that $132,800 may no longer be reasonable and is more inclined to support the $200,000 proposed in the 2005 fiscal year budget.

"You can't just go and buy something because you want it," said Sagal.

Sullivan, who voted to appoint DeRensis last year and voted in favor of the revised contract in December, stated that the transition between Newhouse, the former town counsel, and DeRensis did not go well. She added that the Board of Selectmen was not fully aware of the case load facing the town.

"The original contract did not work for Town Counsel and for good reason," said Sullivan. "We have an excellent Town Counsel right now. This contract is not working for the town."

Sullivan stated that the board will be meeting with Town Counsel on Thursday, April 1. She hopes that residents will be patient as the board works through the situation.

Woodbury supported the hiring of the current Town Counsel and stated that DeRensis's firm absorbed significant costs associated with a difficult transition period.

"The board made changes to the structure of the contract, which, at the time, were in the best interest of the Town," Woodbury said.

Woodbury would like to see the benefits of each of the two agreements used in comprising a new one.

Yurek wants to issue a Request for Proposal that outlines a list of expectations for the town.

"Unfortunately, a Pandora's box was opened up," said Yurek of the revised contract. "The homework was not done, and we are living through the consequences of this unintended action."

Candidates were asked to outline the strengths and areas of needed improvement of Town Manager Michael Cairra. They were also asked if they were inclined to revisit the manager's contract prior to its expiration in two years.

The general consensus among the candidates was that Cairra is a talented financial manager and a fiscal conservative, both of which have served the town well, especially during difficult economic climates. No one stated any inclination toward revisiting the manager's contract to decide whether or not to continue his employment with the town.

Sagal feels that Cairra has done "a pretty good job."

"It is (Cairra's) wish to be a strong leader unto himself and to have a weak Board of Selectmen so that he has less overhead management," Sagal said.

Sullivan thought it might surprise people that she does not always oppose the Town Manager.

"We don't always agree and we don't always disagree, but that is not always a bad thing," Sullivan said.

Woodbury stated that he would support Cairra.

"I have not had the opportunity to work with (Cairra), but, based on my feelings today, I would support him in his endeavors, just as I would support any of my fellow selectmen," Woodbury stated.

Yurek stated that Cairra lacks the ability to "schmooze."

"If you are looking for charisma, you'll have to call a charm school. Do not call Town Hall," Yurek said. "What you will find at Town Hall are strong competent professionals, and that is what we need in municipal government."

Newhouse felt that he was hearing loud and clear from his fellow candidates that the Town Manager is a very capable administrator.

"What I am not hearing loud and clear is that people are not inclined to revisit his contract," said Newhouse. "I have a hard time imagining any political position that he may take that would cause me to want to revisit that contract. I just don't see it happening. Period. He says what he thinks is in the best interest of the town, even when his five bosses don't like it."

The debate, which aired live on WCTV, will broadcast repeatedly on Channel 22 in the weeks between now and the Annual Town Election on Saturday, April 17.

April 4 fundraiser at A Touch of Class Snip-snipping for Angel Flight

By STEPHEN BJORK

TEWKSBURY - The opportunity to receive a finely coiffed head of hair and help a great cause at the same time does not come around very often. Just such a rare set of circumstances will occur, however, this weekend at A Touch of Class on Main Street in Tewksbury.

Salon owner Debbie Selfridge, of Wilmington, will be holding the beauty parlor's first annual Cut-A-Thon on Sunday, April 4, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All haircuts will be $12 and the shop will be offering haircuts only, no chemicals.

All proceeds from the event, including raffles and even the tips received by the stylists, will go to Angel Flight.

Angel Flight is a non-profit organization that provides free air transportation to patients and their families needing medical treatment. The goal is to assist such individuals who would not be able to cover those expenses in order to receive care.

Angel Flight is close to Selfridge's heart. Debbie has owned A Touch of Class for three years as of this week, but she has worked at the establishment since its opening back in 1986. During those years, she became very close with then-owner Alice Burke and her husband Dave.

David Burke, the original owner of Computer Marketplace in Tewksbury, was a pilot with his own twin-engine Beachcraft Barron and was very active with the Angel Flight organization. He was tragically killed in a plane crash on November 21, 2001. Following a comprehensive investigation, the plane was found to have been mechanically sound and a definitive explanation for the crash was never determined.

"Dave was like my dad and Alice is like my mother," says Selfridge, who spent holidays at the Burkes' home. "All the proceeds from the Cut-A-Thon will go to Angel Flight in Dave's memory."

Selfridge is looking forward to the Cut-A-Thon and plans for it to be an annual event. The day will run on a first come, first served basis, so get there early. She considered scheduling appointments, but felt it would be more in the spirit of the event to welcome walk-ins.

"I am looking forward to making a real connection to the community while donating to a worthy cause," Selfridge says.

Patrons will have the opportunity to buy raffle tickets for a chance to win a year of free eyebrow waxing, a free highlight/foil and cut, a package of 3 haircuts, or a free color and cut. Raffle tickets will sell for $5 a piece or 3 for $10. Tickets for the raffles can be purchased ahead of time.

Selfridge has Belmont Springs coming in to donate free spring water bottles to patrons. She will have between 6 and 8 Easter baskets full of hair products donated by distributors to give away.

A Touch of Class is located at 1921 Main Street in Tewksbury, across the street from McDonald's.

For more information about Angel Flight, visit the organization's website at www.angelflightne.org.

Senate overrides Article 38 veto the board to fill the vacancy created by the departure of Scott Garratt. Forrest's appointment followed several deadlocked votes for appointments to the seat.

"We acted to reform local government and proved that Wilmington voters can see through political shenanigans," said Woodbury. "I am glad that we are able to vote on it on April 17."

Romney issued a statement that he saw no compelling justification for a change to Wilmington's charter.

According to sources, however, it was the very nature of the bill that prompted Romney to use his veto powers.

According to Miceli, a member of the Romney administration told him that the governor issued the veto in order to be able to remain consistent, should Senator John Kerry win the presidential election this November.

If Kerry wins the presidency, then his seat in the United States Senate will be filled by an appointment from the Governor of Massachusetts, just as Benjamin Smith was appointed by then-governor Foster Furcolo to fill John F. Kennedy's Senatorial seat in 1960.

Romney would have complete autonomy as to who he chooses to appoint and would likely appoint a Republican to the seat, if provided with the opportunity.

Such a scenario could tempt Democrats to draft a bill similar to Wilmington's, calling for a special election to re-fill Kerry's seat. Romney would likely be loathe to sign such a bill.

Squirt II's on a nice winning streak

The Wilmington Squirt II's, sponsored by Brothers Roast Beef & Pizza, despite having had little to celebrate during the past few months continue to play hard. The team has won three of their last four games and are now gearing up for the playoffs.

The team has struggled through one goal loss and ties with little or no luck until the last couple of weeks. With strong goaltending from Nick Luise and steady defense from Coner Brennan, Frankie Cerbone, Paul Barbaro, Mike Ciampi, Steven Taylor and Gordie Fitch, the team has put together several impressive wins against the top teams. Jackie Mulrenan has continued his hot play with several more goals and assists to add to his point total. His linemates Drew Cummings and Sara Alonardo have chipped in with a few goals of their own.

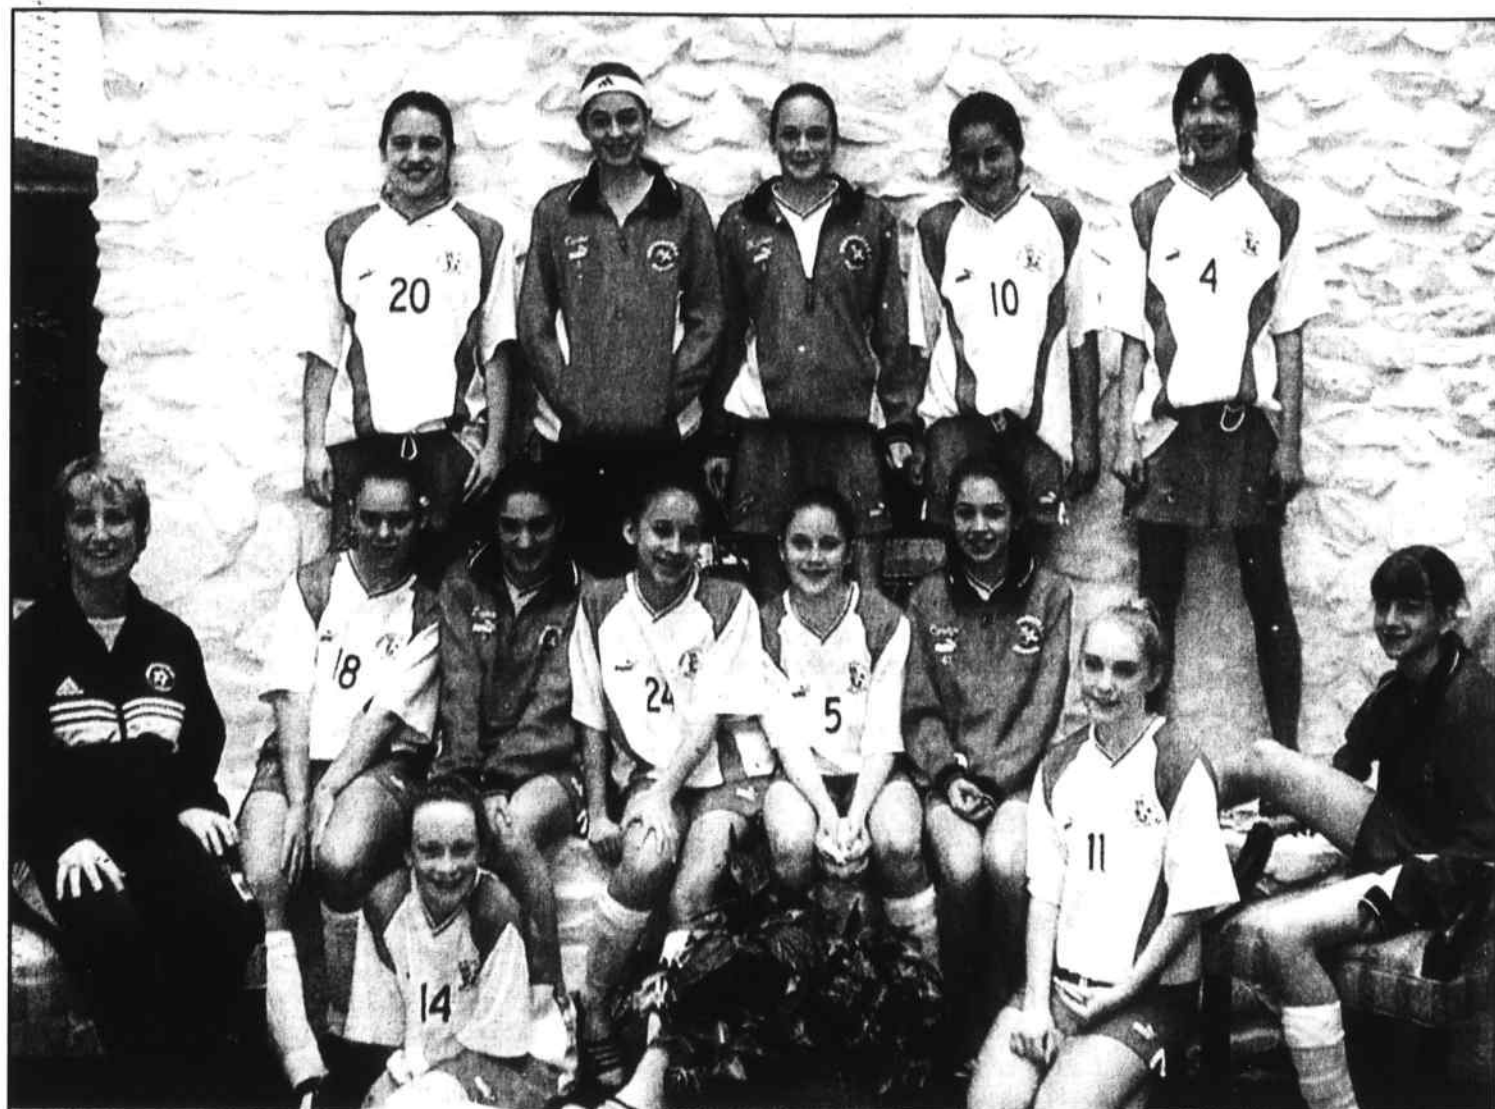

In the 4-2 win over a strong North Reading team, Jackie and Sara each scored with Drew assisting. The other two goals were scored by Nick Pino who has finally snapped out of his scoring slump.

Nick's linemates of Tyler MacInnis and Jeffrey Goosens assisted on the goals and played a strong two way game.

The line of Trevor Foley, Brendan Munro and Scott Layton continue their fine play with several scoring opportunities only to be denied. That line has been the most consistent over the last month, each scoring several goals and playing good two way hockey.

The team also had impressive wins over Pentucket 4-2 (which knock them out of first place) and NH East 4-3. The team did slip up on an early Sunday morning game a few weeks back.

At game time there were no coaches, no goaltender and seven skaters. A couple of parents manned the benched until the rest of the troops showed up after following coach Mike on a Sunday drive to NH. The game was in Dracut. Needless to say the kids and coaches were not happy and it resulted in another close loss. Needless to say it has been a fun year and the kids & parents.

Wilmington 7th graders Natalie Russo, Lauren Nasiff, Liz Chin, Kelly Walsh, Stephanie Benson and Jamie Gingras along with fellow team mates traveled to Virginia this weekend to show them how soccer is played in Massachusetts. The U13 Inter-Bandits girls played four tough games. Although a little battered and bruised when all was said and done, they went undefeated and came home Champions of the Prince William Icebreaker Soccer Tournament.

Season is winding down for Squirt A's

The Wilmington Squirt A Hockey Team is heating up as the season winds down. On Thursday March 25th at Skate 3 the Cat's squared off against the Wakefield Squirt A Hockey Team in a Dual State contest.

Wilmington lost to Wakefield in the District 10 Play Downs 3-1 in their only previous meeting earlier this year.

The first period was a feeling out process for both teams as neither team could find the back of the net. The Wilmington defense of Jimmy Mullen, Ian Haggerty, Brian Callahan, Adam Siegel and Cam Collins were outstanding and limited the Wakefield squad to very few high quality scoring chances and the first period ended 0-0.

Wilmington goalie Joey Aucoin stopped Wakefield on a breakaway early in the second period and the Cat's came right back down the ice with Justin Ferreira scoring the first of his (2) goals giving the Cat's the early lead 1-0. Justin's goal was assisted by his line mates Kevin Moriarty and Domenic Dirupo. Wakefield evened the score later in the second period 1-1 with a rebound goal.

The fireworks began early in the third with a grand total of (5) goals being scored. Wilmington goalie Tyler Stillings was very busy especially in the third period and made some big saves. The line of Brian Hurley, Adam Martiniello and David Sugrue were very prominent in the scoring with Brian registering (2) goals with assists going to both line mates David and Adam. The Wilmington line of John Hughson, Danny Creedon and Jimmy O'Neill were also buzzing around the Wakefield net causing constant havoc. With Wilmington leading 4-2 late in the game Wakefield pulled their goalie and scored a goal narrowing the Wilmington lead to 4-3. Wakefield then pulled their goalie again trying to even the score but Wilmington was able to pull out a 4-3 win.

On Saturday morning March 27th at 6:00 am Wilmington and Winchester faced off in a Dual State game at the Forum in Chelmsford. The last time Wilmington and Winchester hooked up Winchester won 2-1 with Wilmington having two goals disallowed and Winchester scoring on a breakaway with seconds to go to squeak out a questionable 2-1 victory. So the rematch would prove to be very interesting to say the least.

Winchester got on the board early when they scored off a goal mouth scramble taking the early 1-0 lead. Wilmington goalie Joey Aucoin then made a spectacular glove save early in the period keeping his team in the game. The Wilmington defense of Meaghan Souza, Jimmy Mullen, Ian Haggerty, Brian Callahan, Adam Siegel and Cam Collins were outstanding early and limited the Winchester team to very few offensive opportunities. The first period ended with Winchester clinging to the 1-0 lead.

The second period was perhaps the Cat's best period of the year as they scored (4) goals and caught Winchester by surprise. Then the Wilmington line of Brian Hurley, Adam Siegel and David Sugrue evened the score when David chipped the puck over the Winchester goalie. Brian Callahan scored from the point when his screened shot eluded the Winchester goalie giving the Cat's the lead 2-1. The Wilmington forward line of Kevin Moriarty, Justin Ferreira and Domenic Dirupo were firing on all cylinders and accounted for a grand total of (4) goals with Kevin and Justin each scoring twice.

If the second period was the Cat's best effort of the year the third period was just the opposite! The Cat's were leading 6-1 early in the third and figured the game was over but unfortunately it's never over until it's over. Winchester started skating and playing with more emotion and scored a total of (4) goals in the third period. Late in the game a penalty shot was awarded to Winchester but Wilmington goalie Tyler Stillings stopped the breakaway attempt and the Cat's escaped with a 6-5 victory.

Also picking up assists in the game were Hurley, Martiniello, Mullen, Ferreira, Dirupo, Haggerty, Callahan and Collins. The Squirt A Wildcats players and parents would like to thank the team sponsor Power Shot.

Tennis team looking to bounce up in the standings

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Finishing with the second most wins in the program's 13-year history last year should be a sign of optimism, especially since the Tewksbury High girls tennis team returns its two top players from that team.

But last year, the Redgals finished with a 6-12 record and head coach George Kalarites was to be honest expecting a few more wins to go the team's way. This year he has just about put a stamp on a guarantee of climbing up the standings.

"I'm excited," he said. "We're in the small school conference with Lowell, Billerica, Notre Dame Academy and Lawrence so we should be comfortable and very competitive with those teams. Last year we were one win away from qualifying for the states as the top two teams in both conferences qualify."

"We were 6-12 last year, but it was the first time we had two players compete at the (individual) state (meet) and we hope to have three this season. We have seven or eight kids from last year's team who took lessons (in the off-season) and already you can see that improvement."

"No team as far as I remember has ever won more than seven matches in a season. I'd be surprised if we don't break 500 this season. I would be disappointed if we didn't especially since we have two pretty good players at the top two singles spots."

The key for the team this season, is not the play of both Katie MacDonald and Amanda Sutherbee, but who emerges to the forefront for the third single's spot, and the two doubles teams.

"That's huge because you need to pick up a point or two from the doubles teams," said Kalarites. "You just can't rely on the singles players."

MacDonald, a junior, will control the team's top singles spot for the third straight year. Last year she finished the season with an 11-8 record, and also became one of three players in the history of the program to qualify for the North sectional individual tennis competition. In the second round she was defeated in straight sets by Reading's Alyssa Lapane, 6-2, 6-2.

Sutherbee, the team's lone captain and one of three seniors on the team, will be back once again as the team's second singles player. She finished with an 12-6 record last year and she too participated in the state individual competition, losing in the first round to Weston's Deana Moella, 6-3, 6-1.

After those two spots, the final five slots are up in the air and will be determined by any of the final dozen or so players on the team. Seniors Wei Wong and Shannon Sullivan as well as junior Ashley LeFebvre all have at least a year of experience under their belts. The three of them will most likely make up the third singles spot, and the first doubles tandem.

The final doubles team will be fought out this week between juniors Kim Southmarsh, Ashlee Andrews, Amanda McLeish and Amanda Watkins, as well as seniors Ashley Wallace and Jenna Aguair.

Sophomore Kerry Wilson and freshmen Shannon O'Neil, Katie Martin and Stacie Morgan add depth and will push for spots.

Tewksbury opens its season on Monday with the first of three straight road trips to Lowell beginning at 3:30. After matches with Billerica and Chelmsford, the Redgals' home opener is set for April 14th against Lawrence.

"We have nine matches at home this season and we don't travel twice to any school for the first time which is nice," said Kalarites. "We still have to face the big teams with Andover, Chelmsford and Central Catholic, but I'm really excited about this team and this season."

"The toughest part is just keeping the girls (who don't play as much) interested. There's not a whole lot of time to be teaching them and to practice. But we have a great group of girls. Nine of the eleven girls on varsity are in the National Honor Society."

2004 Varsity Schedule

The Tewksbury High girls tennis team will be led this season by its No. 1 singles player Katie MacDonald, left, and its No. 2 singles player, senior captain Amanda Sutherbee. Both players had winning records last season, and both of them became the second and third players in the history of the program to compete in the North sectional individual competition. The team gets underway with a road match against Lowell on Monday.

TMHS Boys Track Preview

Winning tradition hopes to continue

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Last year's team was unique. It had talent, it had character and it got the job done when called upon. Perhaps the tradition can continue this season.

The Tewksbury High boys outdoor track-and-field team is the reigning two-time Class C State Champions, two-time Class C Relay Meet champions and the three-time Merrimack Valley Conference small school champions.

This year's team on paper, appears to be very strong. It seems that the team is pretty talented in many areas, and seems to have many stars who could spread the wealth around in the scoring department. Certainly there's question marks entering the season, including some depth in some events. But the biggest question is whether or not the team can find its identity, especially right away.

"I'd say we're a pretty good team but we open against one of the best teams in the entire state in Central Catholic," said coach Steve Levine. "They have a lot of talent in every event and they have a lot of depth. We lack depth. I think running against Central will make us better for the state meet."

"It's going to be an interesting season. We have talent but we don't have the spark right now that last year's team had. We're lacking that character. We're trying to develop it. We have seven seniors who we're relying on to hopefully provide the senior leadership we need. We're looking for someone to step up."

On paper this team has a handful of No. 1 athletes that any team would love to have. Certainly the team's three juniors, Peter Fortunato, Kevin Ianetta and Chris Byrne are as good as they come. Byrne was second in the MVC last year in the javelin tossing 158 feet, and then was fourth at the Class C Meet. He'll also compete in the discus and some sprints.

Fortunato is an outstanding middle distance/distance runner, as proven as one of the best in all of New England from this past winter. Ianetta is very versatile and was the second best hurdler in Class C last year. He'll also compete in the triple and long jump.

Besides those three, the key ingredient for the team will come from its seniors. Levine has 26 seniors on the team and a handful of them should be heavy contributors to the scoring department. Mike Kukler, Mike Earley, Mike Mosher, Jonathan Flanagan and Anthony Corsino are five outstanding athletes.

Kukler was sixth at the state meet last year in the mile, while Mosher was fourth in the 300 hurdles and sixth in the long jump. Flanagan was sixth in the 400. Earley will compete in the pole vault and the sprints.

Joe Davidian, Gerald Ianetta, David Gay and Jeff Elwell also seniors, will be competing in various field events.

Josh Corriveau is a solid sprinter, while, Tim Lyons, who came through with a huge fifth place finish in last year's state meet to put the team over the top, is back again as well. John Alibiso came on in the winter season in the high jump. Eric Belmonte, Scott Hudson, Brian Little, Dan Igo, Mayur Patel and Andrew Restuccia round out the rest of the seniors and they'll be competing in the middle distance/distance events.

Junior Tim Heffernan adds depth in the jumping events as will Dan Westaway and Buddy Bradley in the throwing events. Chris Dietsch rounds out the juniors in the hurdles.

The sophomore class could emerge and give that lift the team needs in the depth department. Steven Mello, Erik Taber, Eric Webb, Juston O'Brien, Tom Byrne, Patrick Legro, Dave Camoscio and Dave McCauley will push the others in all of the running events. David Finethy should provide help in both the pole vault and the sprints.

Levine said he has several ideas for the two relay teams. He's thinking of a combination between Mosher, Corriveau, Chris Byrne, Corsino and Earley in the 4x100. The 4x400 team could consist of Corsino, Flanagan, Chris Byrne and Kevin Ianetta.

"We're in the small school conference with Billerica, Dracut, Lawrence and Methuen. Methuen is the team to beat again, but Lawrence has some of the best individual talent in the entire state as we saw in the indoor season. I think we're strong in almost every event except maybe long jump. We lack some depth in the sprints. We have No. 1 kids galore. But what we need to find is some depth - we need to find those No. 2 and No. 3 kids."

Winning tradition has been set on the diamond

Behind a strong battery, team looks to recharge

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

In the past four years combined, the Tewksbury High girls softball team has a record of 69-22. For the second straight season, the team graduated a Division 1 collegiate player as now Kelly Boyle is gone, as was Lauren Welch the season before.

This year's team is now entirely different. The team lost its left side of the infield as Boyle and Christi Marsh graduated, while, another starter and another would-be starter decided not to come out for the team this season leaving a handful of holes to fill.

However, this program has qualified for the state tournament in each of the past eight years, including last year when it was defeated in the first round by Saugus, 1-0. Coming back from last year's team is two very good pitchers, an outstanding catcher and several other good gloves.

Now the questions entering this season will be who'll provide the leadership, who'll get on base, who'll knock in the runs, and who'll play shortstop?

"We're going to be OK with our pitching and solid with our catching," said veteran head coach Leo DiRocco. "The infield we have some holes to fill, especially the left side. We're still looking at shortstop. We're going to see more this week with a few more scrimmages but we have three players right now who we can go too. All we're looking for is someone to step in and make the routine plays there."

"The outfield is pretty good. I think we have a lot of pieces to the puzzle but we're looking to put them together a little bit quicker."

This year's team will be led by its tri-captains, Kaitlin Petros, Lindsay Cullity and Allison Smolinsky. Petros is back for her fourth stint with the program and she'll be the team's left fielder once again. She has a pretty good bat and should be in the mix of the meat of the order.

Cullity has been versatile over the past few years switching between first base, the outfield and DH. She is one of the options right now for shortstop. She'll also be looked upon to be one of the top hitters on the team.

Smolinsky was a reserve outfielder/pinch runner last year and should see a lot more playing time. DiRocco said she played very well in some of the pre-season scrimmages thus far. She is one of the leading candidates for the right field spot.

Five other underclassmen return as starters this season. Junior Julie Carlino, an all-star last year, really emerged in the second half of last season as the team's pitcher. She'll be back there again.

Junior Liz Mucica saw her share of duties last year as a pitcher, while she also brings a pretty good bat. She served some time last year as a DH, and she is also in the mix for an infield spot, either first base or shortstop, as well as getting some innings on the mound.

Center fielder Dina Ferriero and second baseman Alex Sacco - who play soccer, basketball and softball together - are two of the top defensive players the program has had. Ferriero will control center field again and she brings a very good glove, a solid arm and pretty good speed. She'll also be looked upon as the team's table-setter, most likely the lead-off batter.

Sacco returns for another season at second base. A very steady defensive player, who makes the routine plays, can turn the double play, and also makes pretty good contact at the plate. She could bat behind Ferriero, in front of junior catcher Danielle Del Ponte, Petros/Cullity/Mucica.

"I think Danielle is one of the best catchers in the entire state, and one of the better all-around players in the entire state," said DiRocco. "We're not sure what our line-up is going to look like, but she'll bat for third for us that's for sure."

Several underclassmen have certainly opened up a lot of eyes. Freshman Christie Costello "shorty" has done extremely well at third base. DiRocco said she makes good contact at the plate, and is very steady at the hot corner with her glove.

Sophomore Kristen Smolinsky will see lots of time as well. She tossed three good relief innings in a scrimmage on Monday, while she could also see time at first base.

Freshman Erica Matranga is the third option at shortstop. DiRocco said she has looked good, but that would mean the team would be starting inexperienced players on the left side of the infield.

"We've done it before, so it wouldn't stop us from doing it again," he said. "But we're going to see everyone continue to compete and see what each of them have to offer."

There's also a handful of other players who are pushing for starting jobs. Michelle Coppi is a very good athlete and she'll be a versatile player between serving as a back-up catcher, as well as serving in both the infield and outfield.

Sophomore outfielder Amanda Fogaren brings a good bat, while, junior Alicia Rocco is giving a real good push for the right field spot. Senior Maria Hamm saw time as DH last year and returns, as does junior Ashley Ricciardi, who is fighting for an infield spot, most likely at third.

"We just need to get some timely hitting," said DiRocco. "We didn't get that last year. If we have to manufacture runs we'll do it but you would think one of these years you would get a better hitting team. We are young but I think this team is more of a singles and doubles hitting team. We're just looking for some balance in the line-up."

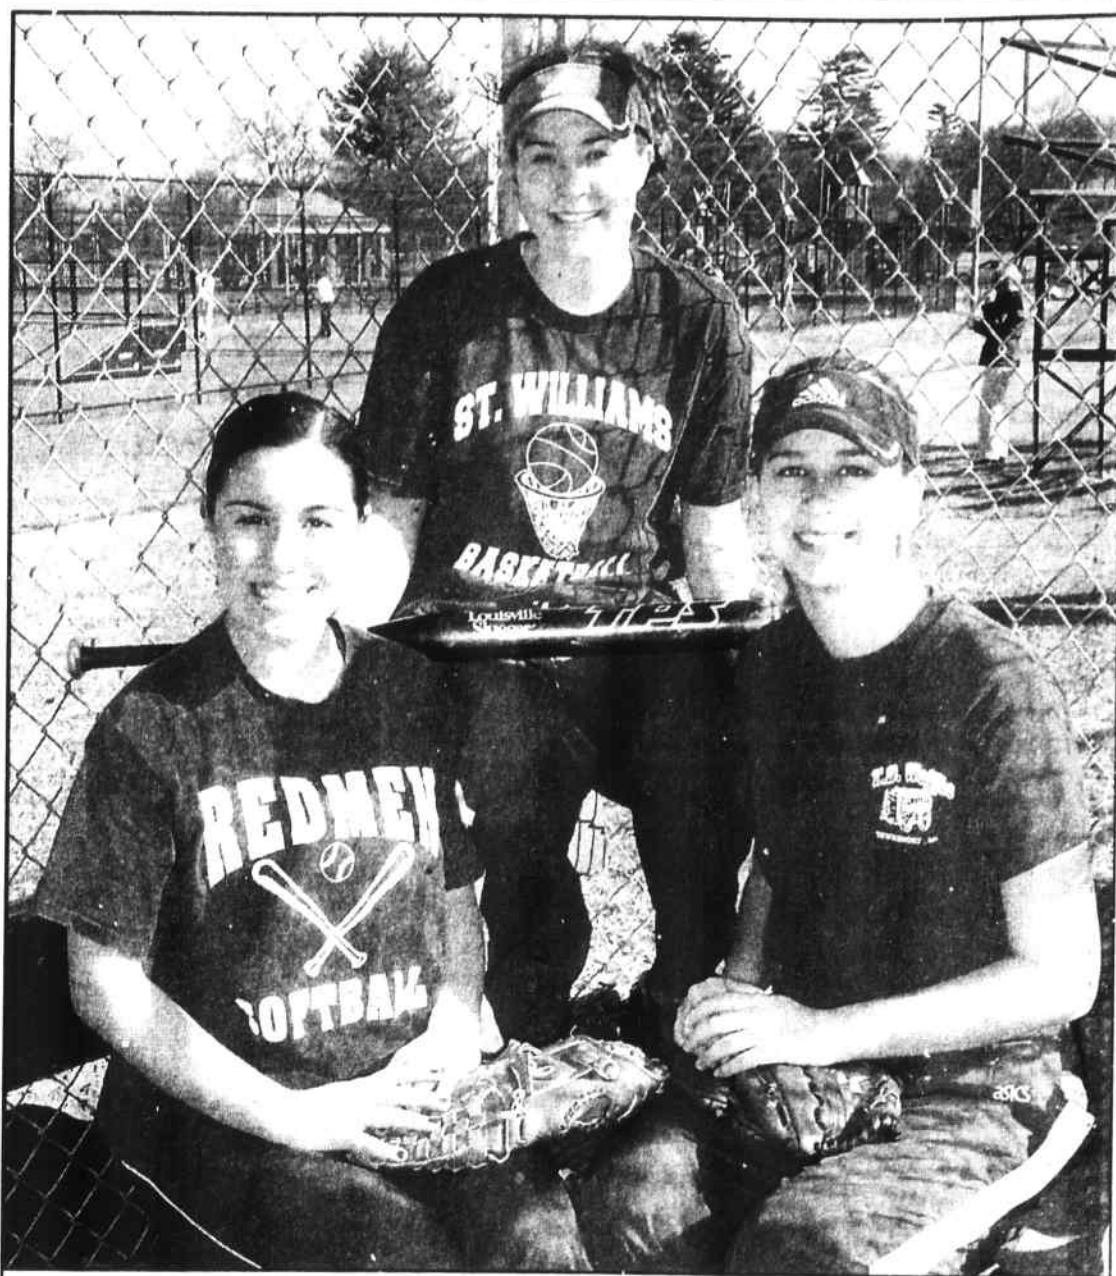

Tewksbury opens the season Monday at home with a non-league game against a very good Westford team. The Redgals will compete in the MVC Large School Conference along with Chelmsford, Lowell, Central Catholic, Billerica and Methuen.

"Chelmsford is loaded, they have everyone back," said DiRocco. "Central and Lowell should be very good again. I think we'll be right in the mix. I think a lot of it will depend upon how we do early on."

"In our first six games we face Westford twice, Andover, Wilmington, Chelmsford and Lowell and that's as tough as it'll get for any team. Those six games are very important and if we can win three or four games out of that I think we'll be alright."

The Tewksbury High softball team has qualified for the state tournament in each of the past eight seasons. This year's team, led by tri-captains, Allison Smolinsky, Lindsay Cullity and Kaitlin Petros, hope to make it nine in a row. The team will get underway with a home contest Monday against non-league opponent Westford. (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

Softball coaches sought

The Tewksbury Girls Softball Middle/Essex Summer Travel League is looking for coaches/asst. coaches. The league plays from June 23 through August 8th with two games per week between Mon-Thurs. If interested call John Parent 978-886-0321.

Adult baseball league openings

Players and teams are needed for the upcoming 2004 season. The Boston-Amateur Baseball League has divisions of play for over 18, over 35 and over 45 years of age. Games are played in Boston and surrounding areas on weeknights and weekends. Season starts in May. All abilities are welcome. If interested, call Paul at 617-325-5164, or e-mail: Pharr29@yahoo.com. You can also register online at our website: leaguelineup.com/bab103.

Sixth graders capture division title

It all started in November and the season has finally come to a close the last week of March. The Tewksbury 6th grade boys traveling basketball team has proven the Tewksbury basketball league and its competition entirely wrong.

As a first year team, the 6th graders have managed to win the Division Two Merrimack Valley Conference title. The team has played 25 league games (not including tournaments) and has produced a remarkable record of 18-3 within their conference and 18-7 overall.

The team started its playoff run against the Tyngsboro Tigers and swiftly moved them off the playoff table. Pelham was Tewksbury's next opponent in line and the team had struggled severely against this talented ball club. With a tenacious aggressive defensive installed within the players, the Tewksbury team managed to walk over the Pelham team.

Tewksbury was headed to the championship and was looking at a quick Lowell Highlander team. The MVC championship consists of a best of three series with Tewksbury hosting games one and three. Game one was lost by one-point due to several missed opportunities down the stretch. This team never quit and never showed let down as they approached a must win situation in game two. This nail bitter came down to two clutch free throws with seven seconds remaining in the game and bumped the team to a 45-44 victory over Lowell.

Game three was held last Friday night at the Wynn Middle School and was a dogfight all 32 minutes. Mike Aramel, who has led the team in scoring throughout the year, poured in 18 points.

Andrew Lee, James McDermott, Chris Santos and Jeff Oberg continued their crucial contribution to the team by scoring big baskets throughout the championship game. Dan Gentile and John McCarthy did their jobs on the rebounding against a feisty Lowell team.

Defensive was Tewksbury's goal all year and Chris Murphy, Chris Leberstrum, Evan Goldshier and John Byrne contributed a major factor in winning a championship. The game came down to a clutch basket by Kevin White and then White nailed the coffin shut with two free throws with 5 seconds remaining.

The final score was 44-40 and Tewksbury 6th graders were MVC Champions. Special thanks to Ed Doherty, Matt Coppi, Kevin Doherty and Danny Canada for their dedication and time with the 6th grade team.

The Tewksbury sixth grade boys basketball team completed its successful season which included being crowned MVC Division II Champions. An athlete must figure out who they are first

By LOUIE CIMAGLIA

Playing a sport is a full time commitment. You must have a serious devotion to play a sport. A sport consumes time and energy and you have to be ready to cope with various bumps and bruises throughout the year. You can be proud for playing a sport. This is just one sport. Imagine playing two or three sports. That's why the multi-sport athlete is a dying breed.

The multi-sport athlete used to be normality. Baseball in the summer, football in the fall, and basketball or hockey in the winter for the males was the common pattern as was soccer, basketball and softball or track for the females. It's just harder and harder to be able to succeed in more than one sport. The sports world has evolved immensely in the last 20, even ten, years.

Now technology and scientific advancements are changing the way sports are played. And for some students who start to play sports on the high school level, it just makes sense to focus on one sport. With new schemes and better formulas for success, the learning aspect of a sport is now just as important as the physical aspect. For a first time athlete, that's a lot to take in.

Of course, there still is a physical aspect. And that is what takes the toll. That is also what drives some students away from playing multiple sports. Sometimes the physical stress just cannot be endured.

There is a certain pressure felt by all athletes. It is a naive pressure to be the best. Students think weight training will propel them further and faster. Sometimes this pressure is felt too much and can have negative results. Students play one sport because they see the off-season as a chance to come into preseason next year as a better athlete.

An athlete has the most fluctuating profession on Earth. New plays and schemes are incorporated every practice. Never ending streams of film and data keep the athlete occupied for healthy amounts of time. Of course, there's no shortcuts. You learn it the right way, or you're just wasting everyone's time. If you aren't going full tilt, you're not getting better. And the point of a sport is to improve in some way, shape or form.

There is one word that sums up everything about any sport: dedication. Are you truly playing the sport, or are you just there for the sake of being there? A sport is a game, and you're supposed to have fun. But there is a certain primitive instinct of honor that you just have to uphold. It's like those Gatorade commercials. As corny as some of them are, you do get a rush. It's fleeting, and it really doesn't change you in the long run. But sometimes, it's downright awesome.

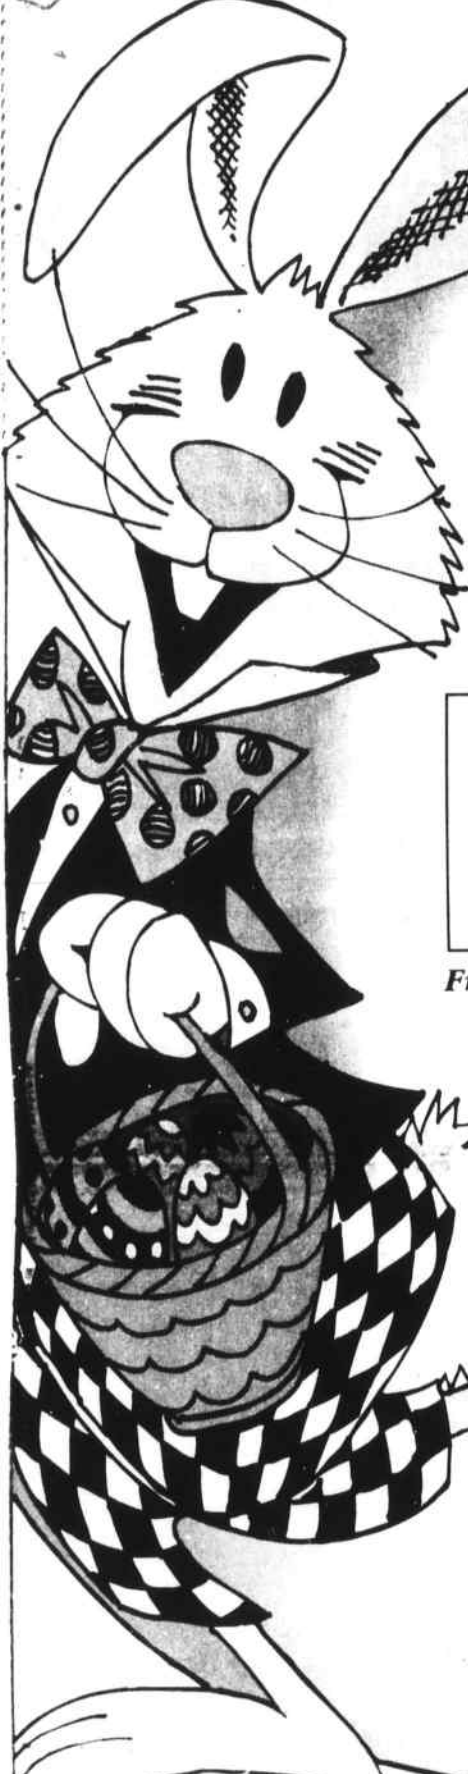

It's safe to say that everyone imagines himself or herself being the best athlete - the top of the class, the crème de la crème, the icing on the cake, "da man" or "da woman". It's normal. The worst part is coming up short. It's a severe psychological defeat for the weak-minded. A real athlete will try again. There is always a tomorrow. There is never an end. It just keeps going. The opportunity is there, you just have to make the most of it. Life can give you lemons, and you can make lemonade. Or do you want more? How about taking life's lemons and whipping up some lemon meringue pie? The option is yours. Will you take it? Or will you be like so many of the others and let it drift away?

Delve into yourself. Who are you? Are you the best, no matter what anyone says? Are you a risk taker? No one ever got hurt by playing it safe, but the ones who took the risk come out on top. The athlete should be indestructible. Maybe one sport is enough. If you're dedicated, and you really want something, you could play ten sports. It's all in your mind. So now, let me ask you... who are you? Are you the multi-sport athlete, glimmering in pride, or are the one who took the beaten path?

As the great Robert Frost once said, "I took the unbeaten path, and that has made all the difference".

Youth girls hockey team grabs league championship title

When the Route One Girls Hockey League season opened last October no one knew what to expect from the Wilmington Squirt team, this being a team that won only two games the previous season. So, with just two games left in this season, the girls find themselves a mere three points away of (for lack of a better term) going from worst to first.

On Sunday the 21st the Lady Cats faced off against the Winchester squad. A well played first period ended like most for these two teams, penalty free and scoreless.

The second period scoring opened with Bridget Griffin unassisted goal 33 seconds in on a snapshot from outside the blueline. Winchester tied the game midway through. Alicia Nazzaro put the Cats in the lead again, assisted by Meghan Pickett.

Winchester fought back quickly to tie then pulled ahead on a deflection that just eluded goalie Amelia Woodbury. A mere 40 seconds was all it took for Kaitlyn Souza to even the score, assists to Pickett and Nazzaro. A well played contest earned them one point for the tie.

Danvers was next on the dance card, having only faced them once before, a 2-1 victory for the Wildcats, the only thing known about this team was strong goaltending. No one got on the board until 20 seconds into the second period when an Alex Fletcher feed led to Alicia Nazzaro's first goal of the game on a bouncer that skipped over the goalie's mitt.

Less than two minutes later Nazzaro tallied again this time unassisted on an end to end rush with Meghan Pickett in the penalty box. Kaitlyn Hayes scored the shorthanded goal, assist to Souza, to end the period. Danvers came back strong scoring two goals in less than 30 seconds midway through the third period, but strong defensive play by all Wilmington players kept them at bay to secure the division title.

The coaching staff would like to thank and congratulate McKayla Blanch, Kristyn Callahan, Jessica Denorscia, Fiona Gately, Colleen Good, Bridget Griffin, Kennedy Harper, Katelyn Hayes, Erica Jensen, Kristyn McNally, Ashley Michals, Alicia Nazzaro, Meghan Pickett, Caroline Robarge, Kaitlyn Souza and goaltenders Amelia Woodbury and Alex Fletcher for an enjoyable season. Good luck in the playoffs.

Three locals compete on under 11 hockey team

Allison Frazier, Allison Noyes and Kerri Stuart were key members of a powerhouse U11 hockey team in the TOPGUN organization. The team posted a 16-2-1 record and was crowned the New England Girls Hockey League champion.

Allison Frazier and Allison Noyes were the left winger and right winger on a powerhouse line that scored the lion's share of the team's 99 goals. While Allison Frazier was the team's leading scorer, Allison Noyes was not far behind. Kerri Stuart rarely figured in the scoring, instead making her contribution at the other end of the ice guarding the net and limiting opponents to a very stingy 1.6 goals per game.

To supplement their NEGHL play, the team participated in a couple of tournaments (and numerous scrimmages) against "older" girls. They made it to the semi-finals of the Polar Bear Tournament before losing 3-2 to the U12 Lady Monarchs and made it to the championship game of the Topgun Tournament before losing in overtime to the U12 Minuteman Lady Flames.

It's quite an accomplishment for three local girls to be selected (and be major contributors) to a regional team such as TOPGUN. In addition to the Tewksbury Trio, the Topgun team drew players from Andover, Swampscott, Topsfield, Derry NH, Londonderry NH, Hollis NH, Salem NH and Rochester NH.

Wilmington Mite A's take on powerhouse Burlington

The Wilmington Mite A's took on perennial powerhouse Burlington for a Saturday Hockeytown matinee.

The Cats line of Dylan Dinatale, Zach Malatesta and Kevin Muese were putting tremendous pressure on the Burlington defense with their relentless forechecking. The line of Tommy Townsend, Matt Diorio and Brian Healy played like seasoned veterans knocking the Burlington players off the puck playing a very physical game.

The first period ended with the Cats down 1-0. The score could have been different if not for the outstanding defense from Dan Luise, Zach Blanch and Mike Diorio. Drew Foley was superb in net frustrating the Burlington offense.

The Cats tied it up 1-1 on a nice feed from Brian Pickett to Brendan McDonough who snapped home the one timer. The Cats were pumped up and sensed Burlington was not on their game today. Brendan McDonough banged home a loose puck rebound with assists from the hard work of Brian Pickett and Dan Luise. The second period ended with the Cats leading 2-1.

The third period was some very exciting hockey with both teams having some great scoring opportunities. With Jimmy Davey on the bench due to illness and acting as a defensive coach consultant the Cats defense was truly dominating. Every loose puck was cleared from our end which led to some nice breakouts.

The defense which often goes unrecognized by the average fan who only see goals and assists was one of the key factors in this game. Dan Luise, Zach Blanch and Mike Diorio played with lots of confidence and really stepped up their games today to a whole new level.

The line of Pickett, McDonough and Rossetti worked the puck extremely well all game and Brian Pickett knocked in a loose puck goal with assists going to Brendan McDonough and Jay Rossetti to give the Cats a 3-1 lead. Drew Foley made some more spectacular glove saves to help the Cats hold on to an exciting 3-1 win.

All 14 players as a team played their role in this big win and should be very proud of their accomplishments. When this team plays together and utilized all the skills they have developed this year they are truly a pleasure to watch.

The Mite A's took on Melrose at the Malden Forum for a Valley league battle. The Cats playing with unlimited confidence coming off a big win the previous game and were totally dominating the game.

The Cats went up 1-0 on a wrist shot unassisted goal from Brendan McDonough. Dylan Dinatale scored on a strong wrist shot with an excellent feed from Zach Blanch to put the Cats up 2-0 after two periods. Drew Foley, Dan Luise and Mike Diorio played outstanding defense limiting the Melrose team to just a few shots. Those shots were easily handled by the top notch goaltending from Jimmy Davey.

The line of Zach Blanch, Dylan Dinatale and Kevin Muese were playing very physical coming out of the corners with all the loose pucks. The line of Matt Diorio, Tommy Townsend and Brian Healy played another outstanding game with their end to end hustle.

Melrose as always made it interesting and made it 2-1 after two periods. In the third period, Jay Rossetti wristed home a nice shot with an outstanding pass from Brendan McDonough to make it 3-1 Cats. The line of Pickett, Rossetti and McDonough kept the Melrose defense busy all game with their head up passing creating some great scoring chances only to be turned away by the Melrose goalie.

The Cats let down for another Melrose goal but held on to win 3-2 to cap off a fun weekend of hockey. With the season coming to an end soon we would like to thank our sponsor Wilmington Arena Authority and the parents for their continued support. A special thanks goes out to the coaches for their ongoing dedication and commitment to help teach these boys the game of hockey.

Wildcat Mite B's take home hard earned split

The Wilmington Mite B hockey team split a pair of games this past week, defeating Burlington 4-0 and losing to Nashua NH 3-1.

First up was a Valley League contest against a tough Burlington squad at the Burlington Ice Palace. This was a team who had beaten the Wildcats the last two times they met.

The B team was ready for them this time however as they connected for three first period goals and never looked back. Chris Sartori started things off midway thru the 1st period as he collected a nice feed from defenseman Brooks Carter and put one past the Burlington goalie.

Wilmington made it 2-0 two minutes later after some nice corner work by Maryanna Dirupo paid off when she passed the puck around the net to Drew Babine who then made a beautiful pass out front to Mark Albano. Mark was left all alone in front of the Burlington net and all he had to do was bury the biscuit in the back of the cage.

Justin DeNorscia made it 3-0 late in the period as he dug a loose puck out of a scramble and jammed it home with Chris Sartori getting the assist.

Michelle Alonardo got the Wildcats 4th goal midway through the second period when she took a pass from Mark Albano and raced down the right wing only to be stopped by the goalie. Not to be denied Alonardo deposited her own rebound past the fallen goalie for the 4-0 lead. That was it for the scoring.

The rest was left up to goalie Stevie Ciampa and he responded to the challenge as he was absolutely superb between the pipes. Burlington put the pressure on in the third period but Steve was equal to the task as he was called on to make save after save to register the shutout for the Cats.

The Wilmington defense played a spectacular game in front of Ciampa as Brooks Carter, Brendan Benoit, Jake Russell, and Mike Curtis were outstanding in stuffing the fast skating Burlington attack. They were also very effective in clearing the puck out of their own end which is always a key to success in any level of hockey.

Another key to the victory was the fantastic job of back checking turned in by forwards Drew Babine, Kennedy Harper, Pat Brazell, Maryanna Dirupo, and Cody McGowan.

The B team wasn't quite as fortunate the very next night in a Dual State League game against Nashua NH at Hockeytown in Saugus. The Wildcats came out a little flat in this one as Nashua struck for a goal in the first minute of the game. That was the lone goal of the game until third period as the goalies took over.

The Nashua goalie was outstanding as he robbed the Wildcats with many outstanding saves. Stevie Ciampa was just as outstanding in the Wilmington net as he kept the Cats in the game with numerous saves on point blank shots, one when he flashed out the glove to spear a shot stopping a Nashua breakaway.

However, the Nashua squad then struck for two quick ones early in the 3rd period and the Wildcats just couldn't recover. They did get one back to make things interesting as Michelle Alonardo rammed in a rebound with assists going to linemates Cody McGowan and Mark Albano.

Then for the last 3 minutes of the game that same line as well as the other forward line of Chris Sartori, Drew Babine, and Justin DiNorscia threw everything but the kitchen sink at the Nashua net but they couldn't get any closer as the Nashua goalie was like a stone wall in their net.

The Wildcats got another outstanding job in this game from their defense of Brooks Carter, Jake Russell, Brendan Benoit, Pat Brazell, and swing player Maryanna Dirupo. The team would also like to once again take this time to thank their sponsor Russell Disposal.

Wildcat Pee Wee B team gearing up for upcoming playoffs

Somebody apparently forgot to tell the Wilmington Pee Wee B team last weekend that that the regular hockey season is in a cooling down mode as it winds down to the playoffs in a couple weeks.

The fired up Wildcats, ignoring the statistics that said their places in the standings were all but settled, instead came out as they should, hot as pistons, in their two games against Andover and Chelmsford.

The Saturday morning Dual State League affair with Andover at Skate 3 saw the Boys in Blue put up a pair of goals in the third period to come out on top 4-2 after the two clubs traded a pair of goals in the first two frames.

Cole Carter hit the post early in the first to almost put the B's on the board right away, and defenseman Jared Hayes and John Malone had a couple of nice early blocks to keep Andover off of it until the blue liner Kyle Gaffey could work his magic. Gaffey smoked a slap shot off an Andover stick for the first score at 4:31.

Andover responded 17 seconds later though with an outside shot that likewise deflected off a Wilmington stick and in the net to even it up.

Jared Hayes, with follow up help from Gaffey, later stopped a 2-on-1 bid, and Kevin Barry blocked a wicked shot for the B's with 30 seconds left in the first to hold it at 1-1 at the end of the first.

Wildcat netminder Pat Young opened the second with a fine save on a hard shot, and Justin Rivera just missed a goal forty seconds into the period to keep up the pressure.

Wilmington finally landed another tally at 3:03 when Cole Carter bounced a mid-zone shot off of Andover's goalie and Brian Coutu grabbed the rebound and shot it in for a 2-1 lead. Rivera, combining with John Malone, nearly scored a third goal a minute later but it did not happen, leaving Pat Young's quick glove and pads to retain the lead with a series of incredible saves.

A persistent Andover managed to tie it again on a rebounder at 9:05 of the second.

Andover started the final period with a breakaway bid that Pat Young saved and Hayes cleared from the crease. The 'Cats, offense then poured it on again with a Pat Boudreau goal assisted by Brendan O'Brien and Sean Sullivan. Then with 2:49 left, O'Brien got Wilmington's fourth and final goal when Sullivan slid a cross net pass to him at the right corner.

The Saturday afternoon Valley League matinee against Chelmsford picked up where the Andover game left off. Wilmington's Jared Hayes hit a hard running shot three minutes into the game to give the B's a 1-0 edge. A minute later Sean Sullivan netted the rebound of a Pat Boudreau shot to make it 2-0. Kevin Barry also got an assist for feeding the puck to spark the play.

Chelmsford stuck to their game though and gave the B's a run for their money when they lit the lamp with 45 seconds left in the second to narrow the score to 2-1.

Wildcat David Mello stepped up his game early in the third period and took some shots on net in an attempt to blast the lead wide open, but could not squeeze one through.

It was Matt Larfarello who finally dashed Andover's hopes for good when, three plus minutes into the third period, he ran the puck up ice and backhanded a high shot over the shoulder of Chelmsford goalie Connor Rega. John Moriarty and Kevin Barry got assists on the goal.

Wildcat Sean Tavares just missed an open net goal, and Jared Hayes had one nullified by a whistle during the last minute of play to close things out. Wilmington 3, Chelmsford 1.

Ubiquitous coffee Dunkin' Donuts DUNKIN' MANIA

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

If this story is being read over a morning cup of coffee and perhaps a doughnut or a breakfast sandwich then the chances are very good that the breakfast is from Dunkin Donuts, a New England original.

Dunkin Donuts spokesperson Michelle King, a Reading resident said, "Dunkin' Donuts is the number one retailer of hot coffee-by-the-cup in America, selling 2.7 million cups a day, nearly one billion cups a year. Dunkin' Donuts is also the largest coffee and baked goods chain in the world and sells more donuts, coffee, bagels and muffins than any other quick service restaurant in America."

In the Middlesex East area alone there are 35 stores, including one of the newest and largest at 293 Main Street in North Reading. In fact North

THE NEWEST AND LARGEST store (above) opened earlier this year in North Reading.

Reading has a total of four Dunkin Donuts locations.

Other stores are located in: Burlington (4), Lynnfield (1), Reading (4), Stoneham (4), Wakefield (2), Wilmington (4) and Winchester (2). Woburn and Tewksbury are tied for the most number of stores in this area with five in each community.

For a company that, according to its history started with a $5,000 investment in 1946 to purchase a lunch catering truck, it has grown to be an international corporation. There are more than 4,200 Dunkin' Donuts shops nationwide and more than 1,500 shops overseas.

According to the website, www.dunkindonuts.com, the founder, William Rosenberg, started with Industrial Luncheon Services, a company that delivered meals and coffee break snacks to customers in the outskirts of Boston. The success of Industrial Luncheon Services led Rosenberg to open his first coffee and donut shop, the "Open Kettle".

Then, in 1950, Rosenberg opened the first store known as Dunkin' Donuts in Quincy, Massachusetts. By 1954, Rosenberg had opened a total of five Dunkin' Donuts shops, and had been featured as a young entrepreneur in national publications such as The Saturday Evening Post and Coronet magazine.

In 1955, the first franchise was licensed by Rosenberg for a shop in Worcester. Today all but two stores are independently owned franchises.

"In fiscal year 2004, we plan to open 350 Dunkin' Donuts stores nationwide, at a rate of one per day this year," King said.

"STAY AWAY from the DANCING HALLS; the poeple there are NO GOOD at all. That's where I met your father, Bridget, darling!"...

Folks, I must have heard my Aunt Nora sing that delightful ditty to her daughter Kathleen a dozen times.

And as far as I'm concerned, the words are NOT TRUE. Some of the finest people I know who are in that category are; Sarno and Alice Antonucci, Jimmy and Florence Fanikos, Aldo and Elli Catalucci, Bobby and Heggy Love, Mike and Diane Frey, Richie and Christine Berentsen, Ralph and Arlene Hewson, Kenny and Debbie Cavallaro, Joseph and Camille Festa, Tony and Dolores Zankowski, George and Ann Kingston, Steve and Maureen Chamberlin, Jack and Ann Driscoll, Tom and Rita Ciovacco, Paul and Joanne Travera and many, many more...

The doctor told my Aunt Nora, "The PAIN in your right KNEE is caused by ARTHRTIS which is caused by OLD AGE."

"I disagree with you Doc," Aunt Nora replied, "My other knee is JUST AS OLD and it's FINE!"...

Whoever decided that MOTHER'S DAY should be in May did that so the bills could arrive in June, the month of FATHER'S DAY.

Blackie Vega just got a new CREDIT RATING which means, "Be careful even if he intends to pay CASH..."

A stock broker has been calling my Aunt Nora every night to tell her that she should purchase a certain stock.

He said, "It will triple in value in ONE YEAR." And Aunt Nora replied, "I'm 89-years-old - I don't even buy GREEN BANANAS!"...

Kathy asked a salesman, "Would it be alright to wear this FUR COAT out in the RAIN?" "Of course," the salesman replied, "Have you ever seen a squirrel carrying an umbrella?"...

Just last week, Blackie Vega was fired from the sausage factory for making both ends meet...

And now for more of those fabulous dancers: Ellen and Carmen Bertino, George and Rosina Frye, Richie and Lynne Travers, Carmine and Josie Micciulla, Ken and Pam D'Machalis, Aldo and Rosemary Balurdi, Frank and Priscilla Renda, Steve and Grace Feeney, Joe and Patty Pellegrino, Richie and Melinda Melito, Mike and Andres Katapodis, and Joe and Marie Aloisi.

Good news folks, the ROBINS usher in the first day of spring. The BLUEBIRDS welcome in song the warm summer days. But, the STORK brings in tax exemptions...

Winston Churchill was a great orator. He once said, "I know great crowds come to hear me SPEAK, but, if instead of making a speech, I was being HANGED, the crowd would be twice as big!...

When Father Merincantanti was a Missioner in a very poor section of Peru, he asked a boy who had only one shoe, "How did you lose the other shoe?"

The young lad smiled and said, "I didn't father, I found this one..."

When I married Kathy, it marked the end of a beautiful friendship that started in the first grade...

Will Rogers said, "I'd rather be the man who BOUGHT the Brooklyn Bridge than the man who SOLD it."

Folks, did you hear about the dentist who married a manicurist? Well they are now fighting TOOTH and NAIL!...

Chris Corbelle said, "ORTHODONTURE" is a dental procedure that "keeps children BRACED and parents STRAPPED!..."

There's proof that LAUGHTER is the BEST MEDICINE. Dr. Walter M. Bortz said, "There is no drug in current or prospective use that holds as much promise for well-being than EXERCISE, LAUGHTER and LOVE."

WOODCHIPS is the prescription for laughter and the other two are up to you...

Almost everyone answers the telephone by saying "Hello." One exception I know is my friend Wayne Higden who says, "Joe's Poolroom. Eight Ball speaking."

There are many ways of ending a conversation like Bill Burton who says, "Thanks for calling." Bob Bonney tells me, "Buzz off, Buzzard." Howie Murphy says, "If it's the Woodchipper, get lost you creep!..."

TIMES ARE TOUGH for some people, even professionals. A lawyer handed me his card and said, "If you ever need LEGAL ADVICE, call this number. It's a candy store. My Uncle Danny will give the message..."

Paul Travers asked me, "Chipper, how's your wife Kathy doing with her BOWLING?"

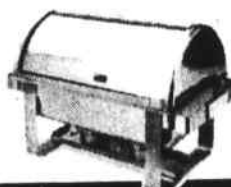

I smiled and replied, "Paul, she's doing a heck of a lot better than with her GOLF. So far, she hasn't LOST A BALL yet!..."

Folks, I've said this many times but it bears repeating; "what the LARGE PRINT in a contract giveth, the SMALL PRINT taketh away."

Movie Reviews by Paul Feely

MOVIE: "DAWN OF THE DEAD" GRADE: **

This remake of this classic 1970s George Romero horror flick manages to bring the zombie movie into the modern era, and the legitimately scary moments almost make up for the horrific acting that appears on screen.

Though no reason is ever given, people all over a small Wisconsin town, and perhaps across the country, begin dying and then coming back to life as mindless, flesh-eating cannibals. The small group of survivors who have yet to be bitten by the zombies (that is how whatever virus these creatures have is transmitted) congregate in a local mall, and formulate a plan to escape to a boat, and then head off to an island, where theoretically no one would be infected yet. The acting is terrible, but there are some genuinely

Boating & You Things to know before you go

by Tom Lucet

Welcome aboard! The 2004 boating season has arrived and March traditionally is an excellent time for the boaters to prepare.

The first boating (indoor) activity was your attendance at the annual Boat Show at the Bayside Expo Center in Dorchester. My contacts who participated in the event reported an excellent turnout.

Jeff, a sales department rep-representative of the Cape Ann Marina in Gloucester and Robert LeBlanc, of the Portside Marina in Danvers both reported, "Great sales, especially due to the good commuting weather."

March is also an excellent month to see if there is any new membership openings available at yacht clubs and marinas near your home.

These boating facilities vary in terms of size, waterfront and mooring locations and annual membership dues. And remember that there is usually a one-time membership fee required.

These yacht clubs and marinas vary from the small sailboat club on Lake Quannapowitt in Wakefield, to the rather large and luxurious corinthian yacht clubs in Marblehead.

Closer to home port in my locale are the following facilities and corresponding contact people: Bass Haven Yacht Club in Beverly, call Ken Newman at 978-922-9712; Danversport Yacht Club, call Elaine at 978-774-8621; the Jubilee Yacht Club in Beverly, for membership info call 978-922-9611 between 9:00

LIKE SAND THROUGH THE HOURGLASS...

Celebrate mentors: Wakefield

"Joining in the celebration of National Mentoring month is the Wakefield Adult Mentors (W.A.M.), a Wakefield Citizens' Scholarship Foundation program," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Conceived by Director Bob Eldridge and implemented in the Fall of 2002, W.A.M. is in its second year. The local initiative boasts of 27 mentors and 27 mentees at the Galvin Middle School.

"Plans are continuing for further implementation of the mentoring program at the high school and elementary levels.

"The local celebration is especially fitting because it marks the continuing participation of the initial 20 mentor and 20 mentee matches and welcomes seven additional mentors.

"In response to the remarkable request from mentees to stay in the program, Eldridge adds, 'I believe that each mentor feels that he or she has made a positive impact on his or her mentee and the overwhelming response reflects this.'

"Eldridge credits the success of the first year with the 'Mentors being consistently present each week, showing the mentee that an adult is there for him or her no matter what. I also believe that we have reached a point in our program where the mentor and mentee have bonded.'

"It is the most rewarding thing you can imagine," explained one veteran mentor. 'I mentor in the morning before work, and the rest of my day goes so well because mentoring is such a joyful experience. People ask me all the time how I find the time to mentor, and I respond that it is only one hour out of the entire week. How can I not find the time?'

Drink this in:

Reading

"The Reading Water Division made an important change to the town's drinking water beginning in February, 2004," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The town began using chloramines as a secondary disinfectant for the drinking water instead of chlorine. The change is being made to improve water quality and to meet new federal and state drinking water regulations, according to a press release issued by the town.

"Further information regarding this change should have been mailed to every water consumer in town. This includes all residents, businesses and medical providers.

"An informational public meeting was held as part of the Water, Sewer and Storm Management Advisory Committee's regular meeting.

"Chloramine disinfection is a process in which a small amount of ammonia is added to water that has been treated with chlorine. Chlorine reacts with naturally occurring organic matter in water sources and creates 'disinfection byproducts.' The new disinfectant, called chloramines, lasts longer and reduces formation of suspected cancer-causing byproducts.

"Chloraminated water is perfectly safe for drinking, cooking, bathing and all other everyday uses. In fact, most people in our community will not need to change anything they do now.

"Chloramines must be removed from water before it is used in aquariums or ponds. Most pet stores sell water conditioners for chloraminated water."

Read all about it: Woburn

"Public safety and education have been a high priority of Woburn mayors for the past several decades," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"During his first term, Mayor John Curran put his full political support on the line in stumping for a new $68 million Woburn High School.

"In recent days, Curran has reassured the Woburn Redevelopment Authority of his support for the downtown revitalization project.

"Also in recent days, he notes the addition to the Woburn Public Library has also caught his fancy.

"In a talk to Woburn Rotarian, Curran had one eye on an average $455 tax increase for homes in the city, including the $131 'debt exclusion' for the new high school that started this year.

"But he is also concerned about the Woburn Public Library.

"It's one of the gems of the city," said Curran. "It is a great building."

"With Library Director Kathleen O'Doherty present,

Dunkin'

From S-1

However, even with this planned growth, it is not easy to start a franchise. As of right now, the website shows no available store locations for franchising opportunities in Massachusetts.

In 1990 Allied Domecq PLC (Baskin Robbins Ice Cream and Togo sandwiches) took over the Dunkin' Donut's operation. The company lists the following requirements for prospective franchisees:

Σ A strong desire to succeed by delighting our customers;

Σ The capability and capacity to create and manage an organization that effectively recruits, trains, retains and motivates people;

Σ The psychographic traits which have been proven as a key to success for our existing proven franchisees;

Σ The ability to manage finances;

Σ Meet our market-specific financial and operational qualifications;

Σ The strong desire to build incremental income through building and operating stores;

and
Σ US Citizen or resident alien

For Dunkin' Donuts store territories, minimum liquid assets are $450-$650K and net worth of $900K-$1.2 million depending on the markets. Some markets require a minimum number of units developed.

Aside from the investment, King adds, "Every Dunkin' Donuts franchisee is required to pass an intensive training program at Dunkin' Donuts University that includes brand operations, production and retail management training. DDU, as it's known, is located in Braintree, Mass."

DDU was created by Rosenberg in 1966. This was just six years after Rosenberg founded the International Franchising Association.

According to King, Dunkin' Donuts takes their many competitors in stride. In fact she claims that the competition is beneficial to all the parties.

"Dunkin' Donuts and competitors exist and expand side-by-side in markets around the country. This arrangement helps to keep our products on the forefront of consumers' minds.

"Believe it or not, Dunkin' Donuts and our competitors appear to benefit from this phenomenon," King said.

The franchises are appearing in several unlikely places, aside from the stand-alone stores. There are kiosks and counters in grocery stores, as well as some gas station/store combinations.

In one of the latter combinations in Rutland, Massachusetts, an unfortunate incident recently occurred when the water the donut shop used for baking was contaminated with some of the petroleum product. However, King said the company has taken steps to prevent any future occurrences of this kind.

"Dunkin' Donuts is committed to the highest standards of food safety, and takes this situation very seriously," King said.

"Dunkin' Donuts shops are independently owned and operated by franchisees, who are responsible for the daily operations of their stores. Our policies require that franchisees meet all applicable local, state and federal laws and regulations.

"Clearly, if the water at this store does not meet local, state and federal regulations and guidelines, then that water should not be used. The franchisee is working with the appropriate state agencies to determine both the cause and extent of the problem, as well as what steps are necessary to resolve it."

It is clear that this was an isolated incident and no further incidents have been reported.

Dunkin' Donuts is not just coffee and baked goods any more. Many of the stores share space with other Allied Domecq franchises such as Baskin Robbins and Togo Sandwiches.

In what may be a sign of the future, a new shop in the Chicago, Illinois area is trying a prototype "café" approach. This includes the meshing of the three logos into a clockwork design that is intended to remind customers that the café is an all-day experience.

According to the website, "The new store also uses a variety of interior and exterior design elements to build an environment that matches the tone of the brands.

"Customers will see vivid, colorful and fun everyday images portrayed in an unexpected way. These include tabletops and tiles covered with vivid pictures of sprinkles and coffee beans and a high energy, collage-like wall mural. Guests will also notice warmer internal color palates and a bolder, more dramatic exterior entrance. The store also incorporates new menu boards, more atmospheric lighting, digital music libraries that convey appropriate audio throughout the day and interesting shapes and colors."

However, despite its growth, many people do not think of Dunkin' Donuts as an "evil empire type of chain that is invading the community. Many of the franchise owners come from the communities they work in and the company's reputation is that of one that is helpful and supportive to the community and its needs. So you can relax with that cup o' Joe and a Dunkin' Donut and enjoy the friendly atmosphere.

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA

In what year and at what park did Red Sox great Ted Williams become the first American Leaguer to hit two home runs in an All-Star Game? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

READING'S TIM BRYANT

a junior righthander on the Bentley College baseball team, recently tossed a four-hit shutout as his team blanked UMass-Lowell 4-0 at DeFelice Field. Bryant, in his second career shutout, walked two, struck out one and allowed only one runner beyond first base. He gave up back-to-back singles to open the eighth, but escaped trouble by throwing a double-play ball and then getting second baseman Todd Palmer to ground out to end the inning.

Healthy ideas

Over-hydration can be just as dangerous or even more hazardous to a person's health than dehydration.

All endurance athletes who over drink are at risk for hyponatremia, but those most prone to this condition include females and people with marathon finishing times over four hours who are hyper-vigilant about their water intake.

Additionally, runners who take non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) like Advil or Aleve for pain relief in close proximity to race time, may be at risk.

If a marathoner plans to take a pain reliever, experts suggest taking Tylenol's 8-Hour as a safe over-the-counter choice during endurance sports activity.

For more information about hyponatremia, go online to www.MarathonFirstTimers.com today.

The 10th annual Tewksbury Memorial High School Athletic Hall of Fame banquet and induction ceremony will be held on Friday, April 2, 2004 at the Tewksbury Country Club on Main Street in Tewksbury. This year's inductees are as follows:

•Ryan McNeal, 1993
•Timothy Lightfoot, 1991
•Christopher Mader, 1988
•Rob Alyward, 1986
•Michael Hurton, 1976
•Joanne Aldrich, 1972
•Richard Fortier, 1950

All tickets are $35 each and are now available at the TMHS Athletic Office, 320 Pleasant Street, Tewksbury. The deadline for ticket purchases is Friday, March 26. Visit the office at 978-640-7834.

University of New Hampshire senior co-captain STEVE SAVIANO OF READING was recently selected among 14 finalists as the recipient of the 2004 Walter Brown Award as announced by Tom Burke, president of the Gridiron Club of Greater Boston. Saviano became the fifth player in school history to be named one of 10 finalists for the Hobey Baker Memorial Award, and is the fifth UNH player, which is presented annually to the best American-born college hockey player in New England.

Need some help on this week's trivia question? The year was 1946.

THE TEWKSBURY HIGH SCHOOL baseball team will once again participate this year in the Lawrence Invitational Tournament during Memorial Day weekend.

There are several local names on the Wheaton College 2004 baseball roster. READING'S MARK DEMASSE, a sophomore, will likely serve as a pitcher and closer. Last year, DeMasse registered a team-best five saves, 3.15 ERA and an impressive 24 strikeouts in 20 innings. Also in the pitching rotation is TEWKSBURY'S KEVIN DOHERTY, a junior. Last year, Doherty was recovering from elbow surgery, and picked up a save in two games pitched in the limited action that he saw. READING'S JESSE WOODS serves as a first baseman, as well as senior co-captain for the team. Last year, Wheaton ranked 12 nationally in fielding percentage at .964, and Woods batted .239 with one home run and 10 runs batted in.

THE COLONIAL ADULT MASTERS SYNCHRONIZED SKATING TEAM is recruiting new members for the 2003-2004 season. Prior experience on such a team is not needed, but eligible skaters must be age 25 by the preceding July 1. For more information call Team Manager Cheryl Milloy at 781-275-4476.

HOMESCHOOLING INFORMATION NIGHT

North Suburban Home Learners is hosting a Homeschooling Information Night on Monday, April 5th from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Beebe Library, 345 Main St., Wakefield. All are invited to explore this great alternative to traditional schooling from a panel of parents who are home-schooling locally.

Bring questions about state and local laws, styles of home learning, curriculum, getting into college, and socialization.

For more information contact Leigh Vozzella, 781-738-0432 or Kathy Peterson 781-665-7248.

BALLET ARTS CENTRE TO PERFORM

Ballet Arts Centre of Winchester invites all to an in-house performance at their studios at 50 Cross St in Winchester on Saturday, April 3 at 2 and 4 p.m. "A Little Bit of Everything" will feature the BAC Track A students along with some of the very talented BAC faculty and their respective companies.

The performance will showcase a variety of dance styles including ballet, modern, tap and jazz and will feature students from the school's pre-professional program.

BAC's Track A program is offered to students age 10 and up who display a "serious" dedication to their dance training and who wish to enhance their experience with additional classes and performances, such as this one.

Two of BAC's highly talented faculty members will also take part in this upcoming event. Lorraine Chapman who has been teaching at the school for eight years, is also a nationally renowned choreographer and director of Lorraine Chapman The Company. Ms Chapman, whose training included the royal Winnipeg Ballet School has danced with several professional companies such as Feld Ballet in New York City. She has won several awards and grants for her work including the national choreographers competition the "Yard" Dance "Straight Up" and "Dancing for Easter's."

Tickets for "A Little Bit of Everything" in the Ballet Arts Centre offices are on sale now. Call 781-729-8556 or visit www.bacw.com.

For aerobic dance concept Sorensen is honored nationally

Jacki Sorensen originated Aerobic Dancing in 1969. Her contributions to the fitness of millions of Americans have been recognized by the President's Council of Physical Fitness and Sports, the Association for Fitness in Business, the American Heart Association, the International Dance Exercise Association, and many others. As president of Jacki's Inc., she oversees a vast network of Franchise Instructors, and choreographs over 300 routines a year for her family of aerobic programs. Jacki's Programs are held nationwide and in Japan and Australia. With over 30 years experience in choreography for her aerobic programs, each student in class knows that they are receiving the safest and most effective quality controlled workout available.

Each class is one hour long, WARM UP; ABDOMINAL FLOORWORK since strong abdominal muscles are important to proper body alignment and protection of the lower back. This segment gives concentrated attention to strengthening each set of abdominal muscles; VERTIFIRM A stand up fat burning segment to strengthen abdominal muscles while also toning legs, hips, thighs, glutes, and arms; BOOSTER a light cardiovascular routine to further increase core body temperature and gradually accelerate the heart rate, boosting into the working heart rate range of the aerobic segment; AEROBIC DANCES Simple, fun dances that use all of the major muscle groups in the body while strengthening the cardiovascular system. The training effect achieved by elevating the heart rate into your working heart rate range, is maintained via choreographed dance steps and patterns: TAPERDOWN a cooling down period to allow the heart rate to gradually return to near its pre-exercise level. This dance helps slow down respiration, body temperature and heart rate as you transition from the vigorous aerobic portion to the final stretches.

As a Jacki's Instructor for over 15 years, I have been trained and certified in the Jacki Sorensen Method. As a member of IDEA, the International Association of Fitness Professionals as well as being CPR (cardiopulmonary Resuscitation) certified, being a non-smoker, and maintaining a healthy toned body, I have always been committed to the highest standards in fitness instruction.

Aerobic Dancing burns fat, trims and firms your body, and increases flexibility. It strengthens the heart, lungs and cardiovascular system and improves the respiratory system. Once you've made a commitment to physical fitness and begin participating regularly (a minimum of two times per week) you'll gain these healthy benefits, as well as more energy, and have fun doing it. Join us for all around fun and the best cardiovascular fitness class in town! Try the class free for two weeks. If you do not notice a marked improvement in the way you feel toward your health and weight loss goals, I will give you a full refund. Guaranteed! For more information call Julie (978) 833-7230.

Will you owe money on your taxes in 2004?

More than twenty percent of Massachusetts families owe additional taxes at the time of filing this year based on the most recent statistics available.

Tax payments will range from as low as $34 to as high as $25,421.

"Those who owe taxes would be wise to start planning now how to cover the expense by April 15," said Steve Bucci, president of Consumer Credit Counseling Service of Southern New England.

He added, "Your goal should be to avoid adding a tax payment to your existing debt load."

will owe taxes on April 15, UCCS offers the following five tips:

- Pay by April 15 - Period. Filing an extension only gives you time to gather information to help in filing a complete and correct tax return form.

- Extensions do not extend the deadline for payment if you owe taxes. Penalties and interest will be accrued if the IRS does not receive your payment by April 15.

- Always File. Do not make the mistake of ignoring Uncle Sam. The IRS may now realize for several years that you have ment, marketing and sales. He led the business from initial start up, organizing and structuring operations development, and continues to oversee fiscal planning, marketing, transaction negotiations, and overseeing all general contracting activities.

Sullivan has a builder's license, a real estate salesperson license and is a notary public.

Sullivan is a member of the Eastern Middlesex Association of REALTORS®, the Massachusetts Association of REAL-

TORSA® and the National Association of REALTORS®.

A lifelong resident of the Boston North area, Sullivan is extremely knowledgeable of its various communities and real estate markets. He continues to reside in the area with his wife of eleven years, Diane, and two sons, Zackary and Dylan.

He is an avid golfer, skier, and racquetball player who enjoys travel and spending time with his family.

Veneziano and the entire ERA Andrew Realty sales team and staff are pleased to welcome this experienced, energetic and enthusiastic REALTOR® to his team.

Anyone with any real estate questions or concerns is invited to stop by and visit Shawn Sullivan at ERA Andrew Realty's office at 535 Main Street in Winchester, or to call him at: 781-721-7676.

Handsome Jessica has delightful design

By Associated Designs

Arched windows, double columns and a fetching eyebrow dormer draw the eye to the handsome Jessica. In this plan, good things come in threes. It has three bedrooms, a roomy three-car garage, and three spacious family living areas. Three rooms feature vaulted ceilings, with 10-foot ceilings through the rest of the house.

You enter the home through a delightful barrel-vaulted entry brightened by sidelights and a flat transom. Higher up, a half-round transom nestles under the eyebrow dormer you see outside. A plant shelf below the dormer takes advantage of the natural light.

Straight ahead, an arched opening frames an arched art niche, one of two in this hallway. An elegant tray-ceilinged dining room is to the right. The vaulted living room to the left has a fireplace flanked by bookshelves.

Windowed on three sides, the family room is the brightest and largest of the gathering spaces. An arched transom crowns the rear windows while double doors in the nook open onto a large patio. Overhead plant shelves and an extended eating bar define the boundary between kitchen and family room.

A step-in pantry adds storage space, and utilities are handy in a long utility room/mud room that connects to the garage. You can sit on the bench to remove muddy footwear, stow it underneath, and hang coats on the wall pegs above.

Amenities in the Jessica's master suite include a huge walk-in closet, an oval spa tub, double vanity, and plant shelves along two sides. A pocket door sections off the toilet and an oversized walk-in shower. Secondary bedrooms share another two-section bathroom at the end of a hallway lined with storage spaces.

For a review plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, section and artist's conception, send $25 to Associated Designs, 1100 Jacobs Dr., Eugene, OR 97402. Please specify the Jessica 30-049 and include a return address when ordering. A catalog featuring more than 400 home plans is available for $15. Boating a.m. and 3:00 p.m. on Mondays through Thursdays; and the Salem Willows Yacht Club, call 978-744-9684 for more information.

So, you eventually join a yacht club, but you need a sailboat or runabout with an outboard motor - right? Well you don't have to own a "boat" to join. Non-boat members are encouraged to join many yacht club and memberships for these members are often significantly cheaper.

Back to the boat buying matters, would-be sailors will have to decide whether to choose a power or sail boat. Purchasing a new boat is similar to buying a new car! Eventually, you'll select the boat dealership that suits your financial situation. All dealerships offer "in house" or bank financing plans.

And don't forget to ask your boat sales representative if his or her particular company will offer you a 75 percent to 100 percent trade-in value toward a larger model should you decide to upgrade to a bigger and better model within a few years.

Another rudimentary skill needed for boating - education! The U.S. Power Squadron and the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary offer the best lessons for a very inexpensive tuition fee.

I myself happen to be a member of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 4-15. Call me any evening from 5:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at 978-922-6854 and keep in mind that the message machine picks up after six rings. I'd be happy to put you in touch with the correct contact person.

Readers, I encourage your correspondence. Address your inquiries, questions, comments, etc. to: Tom Lucet, Boating Editor, Middlesex East Publications, 9035 Ashton Street, Beverly, MA, 01915.

Special dates this year are RiverFest in June, Yankee Doodle Homecoming in Sept., Canal Heritage Days in October.

CHILD CARE IN STONEHAM

The kindergarten and preschool classrooms from the Melrose YMCA Child Care Center in Stoneham are currently scheduling tours of their facility. These tours will be designed for you to speak with the teachers concerning the curriculum in the classroom. Offered are 2-3 and 5-day a week schedule with very low teacher-student ratios.

Kindergarten runs 5 days a week full day. Employees have been with the centers for many years and are certified to teach Preschool and Kindergarten.

Current enrollment for this fall is in the Nursery Room, which runs from 8:30-12:30. The well-established center is actively going through the N.A.E.Y.C. process.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call Karen or Robin at (781) 279-2002 in order to schedule a tour. Location is at 39 Pleasant Street, Stoneham.

scary moments involving the folks formerly known as corpses, including a newborn baby. There is also a very funny sequence where the survivors in the mall begin to make the best of their situation the way that only humans could - such as hitting golf balls off the zombies from the roof of the mall, as well as taking target practice with guns from the sports store.

SHORTTAKES

MOVIE: "ETERNAL SUNSHINE OF THE SPOTLESS MIND"

GRADE: **

This story involves a man and a woman (played by Jim Carrey and Kate Winslet) who meet and have a romance, but then want out of their relationship, and decide to enlist the help of a doctor (played by Tom Wilkinson) to erase their minds of any memories of each other. Sound confusing?

After the work done by the doctor and his crew (which includes Mark Ruffalo and Elijah Wood), Carrey and Winslet meet again, unaware they have already had a relationship, and things start to get very weird.

There are seven differences in the second picture. Can you spot them?

ANSWERS: TREE, LOG, SNAKE, MOUTH, TAIL, BIRD, ANTLER.

The performances, including another strong one by Carrey in a dramatic, rather than a goofball, role are very strong, but the movie can be hard to follow. The script is very unique, and you will leave the theater knowing that what you have witnessed is unlike any other story you've seen before. Whether or not that is ultimately a good thing depends on how open you are to new experiences.

MOVIE: "HIDALGO"

GRADE: **

Viggo Mortensen stars as Frank T. Robinson in this semi-true story about a long-distance endurance horse rider who enters the mother of all horse races, a 3,000 mile jaunt across the Arabian desert.

The film is directed by Joe Johnston, who brought such low-grade action hits as "The Rocketeer" to the big screen a few years back, and does his best to bring that somewhat tall tales Hopkins claims to have happened during his life (and this race) to life in a believable manner.

The movie is a somewhat of a let-down for any fans looking for Mortensen to put forth the same performance he did in "The Lord of the Rings" trilogy, but he isn't given a whole lot to work with. The visuals are nice, but there's only so much you can do when most of the main scenes you are in involve a man and his horse, along against the elements of the desert.

MOVIE: "THE PASSION OF THE CHRIST"

GRADE: ****

Director Mel Gibson has taken his passion in his religious beliefs and placed them on the big screen for all to see, and the result is as spiritually moving as it is visually disturbing.

The story is based upon the last 12 hours in the life of Jesus Christ, from the moment when Judas betrays him for money, to the moment he is resurrected after being crucified for claiming to be the Messiah. These hours are filled with torture at the hands of Roman soldiers, including whippings and beatings, the placement of a crown of thorns upon his blood-soaked head, and the act of crucifying a human being itself.

Gibson holds nothing back, portraying the torture of Jesus in brutally honest terms. This film is not for the faint of heart, no matter how strong an individual may feel their faith is - be prepared to turn away from the screen for a few moments at a time, because the bloodshed may be too much to take.

The film is told using the languages of the time - Hebrew, Aramaic, and the like - but the fact that you must follow along reading not filed a tax return; however, the penalties and interest begin from the date the taxes were due and will add up quickly.

Taxes

If you have not filed a tax return for any previous years' taxes, contact the IRS immediately to work out a payment plan.

• Save money. Determine now what you will owe and start cutting back on expenses to save the amount you will need to pay on April 15.

The simplest way to reduce expenses is with your daily purchases. Bring lunch from home, skip coffee and a doughnut on the way to work, or eat dinner at home. Even if you cannot save the entire amount of your tax bill, any amount saved in advance is that much less you will have to borrow.

• Borrow only with a plan. If you must borrow to pay your taxes, thoroughly review your financing options and make sure to compare interest rates, length of loans and total costs.

Have a plan in place as to how you will meet the monthly or weekly payment for retiring this tax debt.

• Make adjustments. Many people who owe taxes do not have enough taken from their paychecks each month.

English subtitles doesn't take anything away from the visuals on the screen.

The movie brought these events in the Bible to life for this reviewer more vividly in two hours than 10 years of CCD classes ever did, and awoke a new understanding of the story of Jesus in this individual. It may do the same for many others, but know that the visuals used to tell the tale take some getting used to.

SHORTTAKES

MOVIE: "AGAINST THE ROPES"

GRADE: **

Meg Ryan's performance as a female boxing promoter almost saves this film from collapsing under the weight of the sports-movie clichés it has been saddled with. Almost.

The story is based on the life of Jackie Kallen (played by Ryan), an female executive assistant who goes out and creates a chance for her to pursue her true passion - managing a professional fighter, played by Omar Epps.

Ryan's performance is very strong and gritty, and Epps is also decent.

Review your withholding and consider changing you exemption status or having a small additional amount taken out each pay period to avoid owing taxes when you file.

To determine the amount, take the amount of taxes owed at filing this year, divide the number of yearly pay periods and have that amount added to your tax deductions for each paycheck.

Towns

From S-3

Curran weighed in on a standing project that could cost $15 million-plus. The Board of Library Trustees - which is an independent board - has been reviewing plans for some time but funding is elusive, especially during the regional and national economic downturn of the past three years.

"We just can't forget about it," said Curran. Also, he said, the Children's Room is a valuable resource but in much need of an upgrading. "It is the most lacking part of the building," he said.

"That is a great building but it does not meet the needs of our community. There is a plan in the works right now to build (an addition) behind the building. It does not need to be addressed," he added, noting: "The first step is to develop and raise some money."

"He continued, 'It needs the support of the community and it is one thing I want to get more involved with.'"

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10 town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About the Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867 or to notestowns@comcast.net.
